Thread: Let's get #Hackforums trending on twitter.

Arcanine - March 26, 2015, 6:53 pm

Let's try to get #Hackforums trending on the good old twitter?

Try to get people retweeting.

I am sure a HF member owns this <https://twitter.com/lebronjames> , He could maybe start it off? ;3

Edit: Every one change your UserTitles to Get us trending - #Hackforums

chzq - March 26, 2015, 6:54 pm

let's do it, we need to control teh general population a bit more effectively

Fredo - March 26, 2015, 6:56 pm

We should really do this man. Seems amazing.

c??? - March 26, 2015, 6:57 pm

Sure thing. Time to get #Hackforums popularity up.

Arkane21 - March 26, 2015, 6:57 pm

But we're gonna get flamed for being 12 year old ddosing script kiddies ;(

Ooze - March 26, 2015, 6:58 pm

Great idea might as well Ill do it we need to get this trending

You're safe since HF doesn't tolerate flaming.

Im up for it! its about time we did something together ?

Jason™ - March 26, 2015, 7:05 pm

I own Twitters bigger than that one ?

Arcanine - March 26, 2015, 7:05 pm

Every one change your UserTitle to "#Hackforums Tweet it on Twitter"

chzq - March 26, 2015, 7:06 pm

What's the algorithm for getting a topic to trend? I'll change mine if some of you guys start to. Enough of you. Let's get this thread to 60+ pages.

Fredo - March 26, 2015, 7:07 pm

Everybody change your UserTitle to "#Hackforums Tweet it on Twitter" get this shit trending!

GenericSkid - March 26, 2015, 7:12 pm

What are you gonna say though? I know this sounds really negative, but there's literally no point to get HF trending on twitter. Besides, from what I see in the current tags there's literally nothing interesting and I don't see "guize #Hackforums is best" contributing much to the tag.

No point? Of course there's a point. To popularize Hacking so we spread the message of how fucking great it can be.

Don't get me wrong, I love HF. I've wasted two whole months here (in time online) and have met a lot of great people here. It's just that spamming #Hackforums realistically would require a stupid amount of spammy and low quality tweets in order to get trending. If I saw a website being advertised via spammy messages, I'd do everything but visit it.

(Mar 26, 2015 07:15 PM)C0deZilla Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Guys I hacked a bunch of twitter accounts please login and spam the #HackForums to get this legit. Here is my thread please reply to keep it alive <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4748940>

Speaking of spammy, using hacked twitter accounts to show how "how fucking great it can be." doesn't seem to be such a good idea in my mind. Again, it seems immature at best.

That's all I got to say. Don't let Debbie Downer me stop you though ?

Edit: Impersonating isn't cool either. Honesty is valuable.

I never condoned using hacked Twitter accounts to promote it. The best way would be to impersonate somebody with real power. Somebody with a verified badge and get them to convince an administrator of Twitter to start a manual trend that way. That's the best route. I wasn't even aware of the hacked accounts before I said this, tbh so I don't know what you're talking about

I was just commenting about a second users post. I wasn't implying they were in cooperation with you or OP's movement instead of an outsider trying to help.

You need a ton of #'s to get a tweet trending.

Jesse owns the larged MyBB forum around the globe, known as HackForums.

He's in his 40s and has a family of 993,103,403. He treats the forum like home."

All goes well, she gets to the end;

"So, after having this lovely discussion, I think you will gain even more reputation. Best of luck!"

Omniscient repfucks Ellen, she becomes poor and homeless
