Thread: Gary.'s Life Help Desk | Confidential | Closed until further notice.

Gary - March 27, 2015, 10:26 am

Hi, my name is Gary., well you can clearly tell that since I posted the thread. Anyways, just thought I'd finally contribute to the community a little bit by opening up a life help desk.

Why do I want to open up a life help desk on here? Because I like to help out others as much as I can since I really can't help myself anymore.

I've been wanting to do this for awhile but never really got the chance since I've been really busy but now I do have the time.

First a little bit about myself. I'm 18* years old, as stated on my profile page. I was depressed for about 4* years but I'm slowly getting over it. I try my best to tell people that I wasn't or that I've tried to kill myself more than four* times since I didn't want to get any help, but I finally did get help and now I'm feeling much better than before. Hence why I've been taking multiple vacation bans on here cause when I do feel down I accidentally take out my anger on a couple members which has caused me to lose some eFriends on here. Recently I discovered that I enjoy helping out people as it makes me feel really good about myself knowing I possibly helped someone have a better life overall.

So, if any of you need someone to talk to about anything like relationship problems, depression, and so on feel free to contact me.

Seriously guys, don't be scared to talk to me. Your mental health is very important. You can just keep everything bottled up. Its healthy to talk about your problems with someone.

How to contact me

Skype: Sassy.Cantaloupe

Phone Number: Message me for iMessage or something.

Send me a private message on HackForums

Kik: its_garyn

Number of users helped: 11/100

Update #1: Anything you do tell me is confidential at all times.

Update #2: Added a vouch list.

Update #3: I have set a goal to help at least 100 members during my time on HF.

Update #4: I removed the phone number but if you have iMessage PM me.

Update #5: The asterisk are number bound to change.

Buy some candles, get a table and two chairs in your room. Light up the candles and turn off all your lights and sit your body pillow down. Eat some food, have some small talk then ask if your body pillow wants bread sticks but if it says no get them anyways and then be like "you make me the happiest man/woman in the world and I want this feeling to last forever, bodypillow will you marry me" and you just got married to a body pillow man
