I saw this being played in an arcade centre when I was in Japan last year. Looked like a fun game to play. No idea what its about, and I plan to find out when I start watching it.

Just saw the first episode & I really liked it.

Seems like it will have good action.

Bookmarked & watching this along with various other shows.

1st episode ended on a cliffhanger.

Never played the game but it looks like it might be an interesting watch. Gonna watch the first episode later.

Just saw the new episode.

THis series looks awesome.

I suggest you all to watch it.

Chips Ahoy McCoy - April 12, 2015, 11:41 pm

I'm probably just going to follow food wars and Kekkai Sense this season. Will watch this after its done airing though.

VYKTOR - April 18, 2015, 2:10 pm

This is turning out to be much better than I had expected.

Probably could be one of my favorites this season.

It's been really awesome uptil now.

Ahh the frustration at 9:56 is so bad.

Loving this series more than ever.

I would have thought so but
Spoiler (Click to View)
somebody died from both sides.

Spoiler (Click to View) somebody died from both sides.

That's precisely what I think might be setting them up for a truce, if you think about who is now missing from each side, and the attachments that were broken, and how between the two sides they're nearly still the same people - what if they meet alone and sympathize... among other things [such as Timekeeper distrust].

The ghost are the things which could uncover the reason behind the Timekeeper's distrust.

Gonna wait & see how this pans out.

Likely your guess might be true.

Haven't played the game but the anime looks kinda promising

Diji - April 27, 2015, 9:47 am

Additionally, the two main characters ... or rather everyone seems fairly logical. As soon as one or both sides realize they are not powerless against the timekeepers, there'd be nothing stopping them from quitting the farce of killing each other and trying to fight the timekeeper's will.

You have to remember that neither side is evil. Only the timekeeper's are the ones with unknown intentions.

I mean, this anime haven't really pulled me in yet.

I'm more or less just watching it too have something to watch. :p

Unless you're a whore like me and watch everything I'd invest your time into a different show this season that is actually good.

Like Fate/ Stay Night Unlimited Blade works 2.

But this ain't half-bad either.

Bringing this back to the top.

Well, I don't know why, but it seems that my bad luck with "The Animation" Anime continues. It had potential, though the way the story goes, I wanted to quit after the 3rd-4th episode but forced myself to finish it. I guess this is something you would watch if you play/played the games, or if you're just watching it in the background while doing something, but not seriously.

DerMensch24 - May 31, 2016, 9:56 pm

It is on my watch list and seems ok, but I wouldn't be surprised if it wasn't as hq as the original game since most adaptations have that general effect.
