Thread: scammed \$200 by uid=2641948

tec360 - April 5, 2015, 11:25 pm

Hello HF today i would like to report PsychicType (uid=2641948) for scamming me out of $200. I was buying access to his tweetdecks which he seems to have some positive rep for. I made a payment for $50 in bitcoins and the username and password for the tweetdeck did not work.

I was a little skeptical at this point but he ensured me it was because the deck owner changed the info and he would tell me in the morning. Being eager to start on retweeting my twitter accounts, he offered me a deal. He said he would give me access to his other tweetdecks for $150. I double checked his rep and a lot of people had positive things to say about his services so i decided to do it. After i made the rest of the payments he deleted me off of skype and has not replied to me since.

I know I do not look like that reputable of a user but i am posting all the proof below. If anyone with tweetdecks can maybe help me out i'm looking to be a long time customer for a few good quality tweetdecks.

I had some bad judgement calls today. I hope that whoever read this reports can learn from my mistakes. PsychicType, if you are reading this, lets please try and resolve this. For those who can give me any further advice i would really appreciate it.

proof this is his skype:

skype messages and bitcoin transaction (i cant post links yet so remove the spaces:

he has now closed the thread after i, and a few other, posted in it.

Vouch, looks legit. He sounds dodgy no offence lol.

You shouldn't of sent him more money when he asked you to, until you receive the product you first bought.

Since OP cannot link profile:

And Scammer has closed/deleted thread.

Yeah i made some bad judgement calls because it looked like other people had used his services within the past couple weeks. Thanks for the input Antec!

ProxNasman - April 6, 2015, 12:29 pm

Why do you space the links out lmao.

Cba deleting the spaces but I doubt you'd get your money back

Op-Jax - April 6, 2015, 12:29 pm

He has 40 rep which anyone could get in about a week (Easily)

He is a 1337 which only costs about 17$?

He basically paid invested 17$ and got 200$ in return.

Good luck with getting your money back , Which prolly wont happen but , sorry you got scammed.

He is a scammer even though he claims he got hacked.

Proof it's his BTC address that got the money:
