Do you consider yourself mature :Y
What languages do you know :HTML and CSS. Some Javascript.
Any previous work:I've made a few websites for people, and designed a few.
What do you expect from Fortune Programming :To be able to work on some projects, and to talk to other people with other skills that I can learn.
What can you contribute to Fortune Programming :I can work on group projects and sell products for Fortune.
Anything Else :Thanks for reading my application and I hope I can contribute greatly!

Cynn - April 6, 2015, 6:10 pm

Age: 16

Do you consider yourself mature : Yes

What languages do you know : I know VB fairly well, I'm just starting to move over to Linux so I'm working on learning C and Haskell

Any previous work:

Well, I'm kinda ashamed to show some of my previous work as it all sucks...

For starters, I was the developer behind an SMS Bomber:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4580073> (The reason it got shitty reviews is because the person I was working with at the time didn't communicate what he wanted/needed fixed)

I was also working on a trigonometric calculator a while back...I never really finished it because I no longer had a use for it anymore: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4523105>

Most recently an SMS Bomber that I've worked very hard on that I'm selling in the Member's Auction: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4766741>

What do you expect from Fortune Programming:

I'm just looking for other programmers to bounce ideas off of and a place to turn when I need questions answered.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming:

I could possibly help with group projects (If there are any)

I could definitely help out other members if I see there struggling with something I know about.

Anything Else:

I'm a pretty chill dude most of the time. If there are any questions, hit me up, I'd be happy to answer them. ?

United States of America - April 6, 2015, 6:59 pm

Age: 18

Do you consider yourself mature : [Y/N] Y

What languages do you know : Java, Learning C#.

Any previous work: Currently no big time applications to show. Working on a side project at the moment. I would not mind demonstrating any knowledge necessary that I know.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming : From Fortune Programming I expect the sharing of knowledge from everyone in the group to each other. I expect to be taught things that I haven't learned yet and to teach things that I may know that others do not. I expect a friendly environment that is focused on the advancement of knowledge in programming. I have a big imagination and I love to think of new ideas that could possibly be turned into software. Having friends around that know a lot about programming could only make me a better programmer and help contribute to advancing in projects that I am and will be working on in the future.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming : If I were to be accepted into fortune programming I believe that I could help contribute and spread knowledge on Java and OO Concepts to anyone who is willing to learn. I also believe that I could contribute assistance to projects and/or any activities that the group may hold in regards to programming. I am a very friendly person and I think I could provide great friendship and communication to my fellow peers in the group.

Anything Else : Where as I may not be the most advanced at programming as the next guy I do believe that I hold a good bit of knowledge on it. I am a hard worker and a quick learner so anything asked to be done by me from the group will be no problem for me. Programming is something that I love to practice and get better at each and everyday. To be able to share this privilege with others that hold the same aspirations sounds absolutely wonderful. Thank you for reading my application.

Age: 16

Do you consider yourself mature: Yes

What languages do you know: HTML and basic PH & Bukkit. I'm looking to learn C# and C++.

Any previous work: Other than personal backend projects and some basic site work, I don't have much to show for my programming career so far. However I did own a successful Minecraft server in which I programmed almost all (other than the core plugins) for. Although they weren't perfect and they did have some errors I struggled to fix - they still got the job done!

What do you expect from Fortune Programming: I expect to be invited into a community in which I can ask as well as answer questions without being thought of as a total novice programmer. I hope to be able to share my programming experiences and projects with other users of the sub-forum as well as view their projects and possibly suggest improvements etc just as I hope they would for me.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming: I provide the sub-forum with an active and dedicated addition - I feel that although I may not be able to contribute as much as some very experienced programmers, my contributions will still be appreciated by the members I help.

Anything Else: If you have any questions regarding my application, please shoot me a PM!

Thanks!

Age : 16

Do you consider yourself mature : Yes, I do.

What languages do you know :
C#, VB.NET, C++, Java, HTML

Any previous work:

In the past I made a MySQL cracker, another cracker for a game (Metin2), an e-mail spreader, a simple triggerbot for CS, a talking bot (similar to Cleverbot) and other small projects like 2D games and such.

I have much more potential than what I've shown from my previous work and I'm looking forward to starting new projects when I'll have the time for it.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming :

I mostly expect good, helpful members which I can collaborate with.

I'm an extremely helpful individual and every time I see someone having some problems I'll try to help them as good as I can so, hopefully, I will be able to help the group members out when they request help.

I'd really like to join this group, it would be the first one I'd be in since no other group caught my attention as this one. I feel like this where I would belong since I'll be in touch with other members who share the same passion as mine.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming :

I could definitely contribute and help on the .NET part since I consider myself to be good at it and, in general, I'd like to help people out solving their problems and be sociable and kind.

Anything Else :

It's not really much else to know about me. If anyone has any questions regarding my application, contact me by a private message. I'll try to respond as quick as I'm able to.

Thank you.

I made a bash-like shell from scratch. as for PHP you can read practically any of my tutorials and you'll see some of it. I don't develop websites, I find it boring. I handle security.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming : I don't hold expectations from any group. I've been at half a dozen of them and some can surprise.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming : Enormous amounts of knowledge in programming languages, development structure, and security aspects

Anything Else : None. PM me for C++ works.

Noob/Basics: CSS, HTML and PHP

Any previous work:

CSGO cheats in both C# and C++, and some other small projects. I can't really show my experience here.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming:

A mature group which helps. I've been in some programming groups off-site, but all of them has been corrupt, so I'll probably enjoy being in Fortune.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming:

Help and knowledge.

Anything Else:

Not really. Take a look at my threads or PM for C# or C++ projects.

What languages do you know : I only fully know HTML(including css implementation) Working on learning Java, Codos, Ruby, C++ and .Net

Any previous work: Currently am working on building my portfolio and getting experience in different environments

What do you expect from Fortune Programming : Knowledge that other developers have to share that could further improve my own work and help build my skillset.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming : A great attitude and hopefully make friends and eventually collaborate with other developers to create projects.

Anything Else : I'm currently going for a double major in Computer Engineering and Computer Science, I'm motivated to learn and spread knowledge that could be useful to others. I'm open minded and wish to pursue great things. I value any insight veteran developers have to give and my thirst for knowledge is my prime motivation in life.

Yes

What languages do you know

Talking about languages .NET and MSIL (for reversing) which are both the same thing. Talking about syntax (which I think it's what are you asking) I prefer Visual Basic syntax but I can work with C# if needed.

Any previous work

Obfuscator/deobfuscator, cracks, keygens in my RCE team TEAM REiS (click my signature for more information).

What do you expect from Fortune Programming

Making interesting projects in a team of programmers who know what they are talking about and having a good time with participative people.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming

Increase Fortune popularity by making interesting and useful projects for free or paid depending on the contribution.

What languages do you know :
Objective C, Swift, Python and C

Any previous work:

Look in my signature for my community project (It's in full scale development now) all my other work is with clients under NDA

What do you expect from Fortune Programming :

A relaxed enviroment where I can help people become better programmers, and learn a new language or two. It always helps to bounce around ideas and get advice about a subject, I feel that Fortune would be the perfect place for that.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming :

I am a very experienced iOS and Python developer who can help with not only those languages but a lot of other problems. This is because the majority of the time it is rarely a functional problem but a logical problem that can be solved by thinking through steps and doing proper flowcharts and algorithms. Also maybe we could bring your VPN service to iOS. It would be a nice way to show my worth. I believe no other VPNs on HF have iOS apps so that would be an exclusive for this group.

Anything Else :

I already applied but it looks like I was turned down, I would love to join the group and help out but I don't think my chances are very high.

- Enough HTML to do what I need to do
- A little Javascript

Any previous work: I very rarely release stuff on HF because of other leaching forums that steal my work and re-upload it as their own. IE: nulled.io, leakforums, v3rmillion, and others.

What I have made so far (I have hyper-linked what I have released on HF):

- Multi-threaded League of Legends Account Cracker
- Multi-threaded High Speed SMS Bomber
- LoL Account Adder / Messenger
- Crypters
- Keyloggers
- Phishers
- Deface Page Creators
- Steam Market Bot
- Stresser APIs

- Twitter Bruteforcer
 - Multithreaded Netflix Cracker
 - Multithreaded Steam Cracker
 - Proxy Scrapers
- And more.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming : A great group with people that have a thing or two to teach others.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming : I can help people with their VB.net needs. I can do giveaways on behalf of the group. I am also willing to release program sources to help people further hone their VB.net skills.

I however did make a Minecraft client called Adolf which I developed for about 2 years, I no longer have the source on my PC since stopping development though I could show pictures and various modules I had implemented, many which were unique and I have still not seen in any modified clients today.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming: I expect high quality users in the Programming sector from Fortune, people who know what they're talking about. I also expect to be able to learn and improve my knowledge with advice on programming aspects I haven't quite grasped yet.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming: I can contribute a lot of vital knowledge considering programming and many other subjects, I consider myself a high quality user and believe I could contribute greatly to Fortune as I am full of ideas which many people may appreciate.

Anything Else: I have been programming since the age of 11/12, but nothing major. I got into Java at the age of 14 and since then my programming skills are constantly improving. I am not active in the Coding section of HF, but if this is a requirement, I am more than willing to do so.

Do you consider yourself mature : Yes

What languages do you know : Perl, mSL, PHP. I know a bit about various other languages, but I enjoy the textual ones more.

Any previous work: Various IRC/twitch bots, as well as parsing, regex and DB work on at least a dozen sites.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming : If theres any posts related to Perl, I expect it to be just as low quality as the official Perl forum here. However, I'm hoping it's not just begging and sharing scripts.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming : I'd like to think I'm pretty good with regular expressions.

Anything Else :);

What languages do you know: Lua(Fluently), VB.NET(Learning, pretty advanced), and HTML(Fluent)

Any previous work: I have created multiple websites, games, and Garry's Mod servers. I also create multiple Roblox projects for the fun. See below for a project I made in Roblox.

What do you expect from Fortune Programming: I expect to learn from other members. I am a humble member and I plan to learn about coding from others in Fortune Programming.

What can you contribute to Fortune Programming: I can teach others about the languages I know. I will do anything in my power to help anyone in need. (Inside the group.)

Anything Else: The Roblox project I will be showing you: here. This is created in Lua. I also have a website, but it is only to host personal files, so there's no point in giving you that link. It doesn't contain any html except error pages in which they contain only text.

I will not be giving the project files away to anyone, unless you are in Fortune!

Why I modified the post: change the color value of "21"
