Thread: My personal designed landing page for PPD/CPA

Lutz the Virtuoso - April 6, 2015, 5:32 pm

Hey guys!

I have 1 question for you folks. I designed website, which will be used for CPA/PPD.

Mostly fake software and things like that. Please tell me what do you think about design. And how well do you think website will convert users? Every opinion will be welcome! Thank you for all your answers.

Neat design! but do you consider to highlight the download button more? like semi-orange or something like that, so it could attract visitors eyes and increase the conversion

Thank you guys for your answers. Yeah, design in not 100% finished yet and I will try to make some changes you suggested.

EDIT:

So I made change in my design like you guys suggested. Please tell me what do you think. Is it better?

It looks great in my opinion although I personally wouldn't design a custom template for a CPA niche site. Buying a good looking HTML landing page on Themeforest for $10 saves you a lot of time so you can work on gaining traffic or setting up more niches instead.

it's too generic looking. Try something else.

Ok I made new design. I do not why, but the old one did not look good in my eyes.

Here is the new one.

What do you think guys?
