You know, people hate on you, and I don't see why, your just a person with a lot of money, and you contribute however much you like to something you enjoy, which is hackforums. It's your money, and I like how you donate a lot to hackforums, I would do the same if I had that much.

So you donate to HackForums just to post it here "ohh yeah i donated 1.2k USD because i'm cool" and earn rep true? Well that shows that money buys you respect, but not from some members.

Hey, lets look at it from a different perspective, he's not buying "Respect", He just likes to make generous donations to hackforums, We can assume he is in the multi-millions, so why not contribute to something you like. Here's a video to put it into a perspective for you.

I suppose, but that section is specifically for bragging, I mean if it was there I could see it as just another bragging thread, but I don't understand why it's in the lounge every time he donates

It's cool that he donates, I mean surly Omni enjoys the help

That's not the problem, the problem is that if I donate that much money I wouldn't post a thread so everyone can see my donation. It's personal and should feel good of yourself and not to earn rep. But that's my opinion. I see it fantastic that he donates.

Because he can? I'm not sure about you but if I had ever donated over a thousand dollars of my own hard earned money I'd sure as hell let other people know about it. Just because you're not financially stable enough to do these kinds of things doesn't mean you have to look down on those who can. He's not buying respect, if he was he would have stopped donating a long time ago. This forum is obviously a place he enjoys so why not give back to the creator and community?

Really? Nokia2mon2 is one of the most high quality, high trusted and most liked members here on HF.

Do you really think he hop on HF, to get rep?
"534 (0.26 posts per day | 0 percent of total posts)"

Do you think he'd like 10000 reps with these stats for example, by scamming people?

I'm not sure, but I think Red Lions have donated over $10,000 to HF.
Nokia and rest of the Red Lions is respected by the whole HF community and Omni himself.

You think Nokia just donate and just say "Hey, I donated, give me some rep"

What the hell dude?

He donated to HF before you even joined. He's gratefull for what HF have given him, so he give back to the communitiy.

Seriously, that comment made me so mad. You think money is everything, that they buy peoples trust, respect, bla bla.

2nokia2mon is rarely online, he's a old HQ member which gives back to the community. Omni is the man who receive it, not us.

Why do Omni receive it? Because without Omni, HF would be none.

So stop the fuck complaining that he want some rep and respect and that shitty fuck.

I'm going to tell you exactly what I told brian before he deleted his post - and subsequently when I deleted mine, out of respect -

I doubt anyone here is a mindreader, perhaps Orchid got intensely attached to HF, perhaps nokia craves for recognition of his acts. (I'm not saying this, it's an example, please don't eat me alive) (and even in the case of this example, being active has nothing to do with the matter at hand as one can get recognition without being remotely active)

Thing is, you can't say what are one's motives when they donate one thousand dollars to HF. Orchid might have thought it'd get him mad respect but so could nokia have thought. It's extremely hypocritical to trash Orchid and praise nokia as it'd be hypocritical to trash nokia and praise Orchid. Most people who questioned Orchid's legitimate intents yesterday - me being a part of them - had an inherent disliking of him. I'm not trying to say who's right or who's wrong here; I'm calling us all out for being biased as hell and hypocrites.

it was a very long time i was away from the HF. but its always on my heart i donated 1200 $ on the name of my group to HF .

we try our best to support HF as best as we can.

why i announced that?

1- Its in the name of the Red Lions group.. In order to explain a group's activities and effectiveness.
Yeye

2- To encourage others to act the same thing.

3- omni is the great boss i ever see in all the forums, he deserve from us all to support his great work.

4- Because i love the scene Tongue

5- i missed the heaters :) and i need a new advice about Charity and the way that i must spend my money etc etc Yeye :D and every advice about my grammar is appreciated as i'm now a member in the english town :) don't tell me i'm old to learn :P

cheers HF

You should donate to my wedding too since you're feeling so generous. That shit is expensive.

Spend money on the marriage, not the wedding.

Damn.

You've donated a LOT of money to HF over the years..

Good for you! Continue to do what you do.

Aceman - April 12, 2015, 9:57 am

I respect that you do what you want with your money and don't care what others think. I also really appreciate that you could have been part of what helped to build HF to what it is today through your donations.

Perses - April 12, 2015, 10:08 am

Why are people bashing this guy? Who cares if he made a thread about his donation -with the amount of money he has donated to the forum he certainly had the right to.

Just a small re-order :)

Wouldn't this be better, though?

Very generous of you, Nokia. I bet if you donate 1 more dollar, Omniscient will give the Red Lions a custom text color. You guys already got a drop shadow.
