Hey guys.

I managed to obtain a promotional code for this new supplement brand, PhD Labs. They have a mood supplement on amazon. I've been trying them and it's actually helping me a lot... Gets you all relaxed, anxiety free, it's actually pretty good.

Note: It's for USA buyers only.

Thanks for this, I just purchased it although they had a $5.14 shipping/handling and $2 for the actual item I still bought it to try it out.

If it's a neurological enhancer, why is it labelled as a dietary supplement? In addition to those with allergies, this product is made in the same factory near peanuts, soy, milk, etc.

"Plus, the PROVEN science behind our product makes it truly unmatched" Provided PROVEN is a brand and is not creditable or FDA approved. They could put cat shit in there and sell it.

If you have mood issues, even if you can get this for $1, go see a therapist.

Obviously it's not therapeutic grade... But it does assist me in relaxing. It includes chamomile, I on the daily drink Chamomile tea for it's relaxing properties. Works well.

I believe it works, i've been taking 5-HTP to boost my mood, and it has significantly made a huge impact on my mood swings. This product includes 5-HTP which is great!

No problem guys! The owners gave me another code for 30% off. I posted it in the OP.

Guys, they gave me a 50% code as well. I'll share it with you guys.
