This is definitely on your end, if you are using the method which is being sold here.

Contact live support and they will tell you.

I've experienced this myself and have lost 3 x 12 months from them investigating.

I suggest you replace / refund.

Regards

Maxi

Bro, do you not see the amount of codes i've sold on here? None of them except for him have gotten this complaint. It has nothing to do with my method of obtaining the codes.

So does your method involve talking to Microsoft at all?

Just because it hasn't happened to anyone else doesn't mean it is this guys fault.

it does involve talking with microsoft.

if he can prove to me that that was the reason for why the code got compromised, i'd be happy to give him another/refund, but as far as i'm aware that shouldn't happen/hasn't happened to anyone else.

Your last rep is literally due to fraud codes bro.

one ub3r posts some bullshit and everyone believes the codes are fraud? I've sold more than one, as you can see on this thread, and theres only been one complaint. They are not fraud.

User is sketchy, asked him how many codes he had and he gave me a ridiculous number that I know isn't true. Plus tried to mm for him and someone else but said he wouldn't go first lol. Wouldn't suggest anyone buying from this user, just a scammer trying to make a quick buck.
