ThugPara.com is the home of the English Browser Based MMO RPG Mafia Game. The aim of the game is to rank up, make money and control your mob. The online gangster themed game has been running for 3 years and has had over 25,000 registered players. We pride ourselves on a great community which is constantly expanding and providing regular updates so your never left with nothing to do. The game has now been reset and revamped.

This is a free gangster game to play with the option to buy in game "credits" which can be spent on VIP items. We do not advertise on the website so you won't be bombarded with popups or pushed to read any adverts.

Room for one more? Marry or truce with a "partner in crime" to represent the strengths between you and your "colleagues". Build up reputation and make players pay or beg you for protection. We also provide tools to help invite your friends to the game along with a rewarding referrals system.

Click here to join the game that will have you playing past midnight!

We have a choice of 2 different layouts that you can login with.

I am the Admin/Owner/Coder of the game.

Please make account and check out all the stuff you can do and try reach the top!

Played these types of games for quite some time. I don't see any clear screenshots of how this game works. What makes this one different from any other MMORPG Mafia Game?
