Basically he was/still is offering any XB1/PS4 Games on a silver account 1 for $15 or 2 for $26.

Yeah the price alone is extremely fishy but I was willing to take the risk, Doesn't burn a hole in my pocket.

So he said I would receive them within 48 hours, It's now been 2 days and he's not even responding to pm's.

The whole "Wait 2 days" bullshit made me realise its probably a scam from the start but if he proves its not then I'll post here and get it junked:)

Also, Only a day after payment he asked me to send him the chat logs because he deleted them because he was angry with someone LOL to photoshop them perhaps?

If this service proves to be legit and I get my games then I will get this removed.

I agree, I myself bought a game for $15 from him on April 9th and still haven't received it.

Seller acts super shady over Skype messages and just keeps blowing everything off.

Third scam report.

Sorry this happened, best bet is to chargeback on PP.

He changed his username to Pin 1998
