The seller had a thread, which is now junked by staff, advertising to sell pebble watches for a really good price but it turned out to good to be true. I contacted the seller and he gave me a price for the goods and i agreed to pay XXX amount. The seller said that it would be a couple of days til i received a email regarding the watch but that never came. I later contacted the seller about it and said that it was slow and blah blah. Days later it seems the seller is ignoring my Pm's regarding the purchase.
