If that's what you do all day daily is just go on your PC all day then I think that's pretty bad and unhealthy.

Probably way too many. More hours of the day spent online than not. But it's how I make money and such, so I don't really care.

The Godfather - April 13, 2015, 7:08 pm

About 2 to 3 hours. Weekends, I may go to about the same range, but 3 to 4 hours is more accurate. I also have PS4 and FIFA 15, another form or source of entertainment I rarely use. Then on my phone, daily, I'm on, added all together, about 1 hour and a half, of course, that spikes on weekends. ?
