Thread: What is this website called?

Shorta - April 13, 2015, 8:18 am

Okay.... So long time ago I stumbled upon a website where a user could make a room and everyone would be able to set notes in there. Like a note block, and everyone could see it like in real time. I just can't remember what it's called. Maybe one of you here does! So I decided to ask, sorry if this is not allowed/wrong section.

Thank's a lot guys!

I think this might be what you are looking for.

padlet.com

It's just a website that allows you, and other users to make notes.

Just go to that website and click on "create something".

You can then share the link with other people and they can add to the padlet.

Hope I helped!
