DLT. - April 15, 2015, 11:56 am

THIS IS NOW CLOSED. I have upgraded 1 member, and that was Rivalry. Enjoy your upgrade on 3P1C. For those who entered and failed to get an upgrade, unlucky.

Thanks all for entering.

[IMG]http://x.hackforums.net/images/modern_bl/groupimages/english/3p1c.png[/IMG]
Simple contest to enter.

If you're an active, high quality user, who contributes to HackForums on a daily basis or atleast when you can, then you'll more than likely be upgraded to L33T/UB3R, by myself.

Those who are in desperate need to get an upgrade, this is your time to shine. To attract my main attention when entering this contest, I'm looking for members who put themselves forward and take their time going in detail on why they deserve this upgrade. I will check your account on top of your application, just to make sure.

If you post a one line sentence or a low quality entry, you will be ignored. Simple as that, my contest, my rules.

A few profile requirements:

1. Must have at least 80% positive reps
2. Must have at least 150 posts
3. Must have been an HF member at least 1 month

The code to use when entering this contest:

Code [b][color=#00BFFF]What is your main interest on HackForums?[/color][/b]
[TEXT HERE]

[b][color=#00BFFF]What have you contributed so far on HF?[/color][/b]
[TEXT HERE]

[b][color=#00BFFF]Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?[/color][/b]
[TEXT HERE]

I don't know how many members I'll be upgrading, but it WILL be in the region of 1 member. All depends on those who enter. I will close the contest once I'm happy with the overall result.

If i spot a perfect member you will be upgraded on the spot.

Goodluck to all those entering.

FiftyTwo - April 15, 2015, 11:59 am

I don't need to enter in to this giveaway, but I think it's nice that you're doing this for the community. Well done and stay HQ! ?

HACKED - April 15, 2015, 12:57 pm

I don't need to enter too, but it is really nice that you host such contests!

P.S: Host one for Ub3rs ;)

Muro - April 15, 2015, 9:48 pm

Thank you so much for the opportunity. Although I do not have a blinging profile with tons of reputation, I would like to offer things that I can do on HF and having an upgrade will be a big step towards that. Whether that is to offer free services or selling things on HF, members feel safer when they're dealing with someone who's supporting the community.

I haven't done a lot until now, just offering a few HW services and any help possible. I've created a small thread about study tips (but the thread died, lol). However I do have a lot of planning in mind and I am working on a few projects which will be selling something on the market right here. ?

BeNT- - April 15, 2015, 10:04 pm

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Honestly, I have learned a LOT on my short time here (I joined a while ago, but have been active past few month again). So learning, but really there's some interesting characters around here, and have been enjoying the social aspects. Tryiing to be HQ, but wth a sense of humor :)

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Helping here and there where I can, have been active in WPS Pixie POC a bit. Back when I first joined I gave a MITM etter+sslstrip script (based on prev work) but automated it a lot (wasn't a copy/paste job by any means).

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

HQ member (IMHO, and my mom says so too LOL).

Anyway, Thanks for consideration man- Awesome to see this stuff in the community.

Chopped - April 15, 2015, 10:07 pm

Not entering for obvious reasons, though this is nice and great for people that want L33T Good luck to everyone. ?

thyduke - April 15, 2015, 10:18 pm

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Honestly, HF has changed my life. I saved so much money by just being part of this community. My main interest on HF would probably be the hacking/computer/tech/polictics section.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

When I see members seeking help(with a subject I have excessive knowledge with), I try to the best of my ability to assist them as much as I can. I've been part of HF for a huge amount of time now, and I'm still learning. I am eager to learn much more.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I'm an active member and I try to contribute as much as I possible can. Becoming an upgraded member would be really beneficial to me due to the features it provides. Furthermore, with this upgrade, I would like to post in Science, Religion, Philosophy, and Politics forum.

Thank you for the opportunity!

SiStemiC - April 15, 2015, 11:51 pm

What is your main interest on HackForums? Coding and Android development.

What have you contributed so far on HF? I've done some giveaways and made some tutorials related to Android hacking.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade? Becoming upgraded member will give me the chance to provide more high quality content.

Also many people send me messages about helping them with Android so the extra PM space would be great.

In addition, the extra words on threads will be helpful because I'm planning to write some pretty big and well explained tutorials in the future :)

Pharmacist - April 16, 2015, 12:42 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Mainly, just hanging out. Learning a few things, And I will be posting a few tools from what I've learned in the very near future. Its actually a nice community if you can look past the trolls, and assholes. More people are willing to help you than most realize, if you aren't acting like a 2 year old about it.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Nothing, honestly. As I said above, planning on releasing a few things, but I'm not going to share shit that has the possibility of being backdoored, so I want to code it myself.

My planned release is a Downloader, a public and paid version, both will be updated on the same date.

I enjoy starting discussion topics about various things, that's mostly what I do.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I don't deserve this more than anyone else.

I would like to be upgraded so that I most people would show a bit more "respect", no one takes a normal member seriously.

Along with that, I would like to have a bit more motivation on this forum to code and release tools.

Also,

goodluck to everyone else! I'm glad there are some good member who are willing to put a bit of money out there just for the sake of being nice.

Best regards. ?

Billie Joe Armstrong - April 16, 2015, 5:16 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

To be honest, my main interest here is hacking.

But you can say I like helping and advise other members. Being good on a forum makes me feel great.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I help those who's in need if I can help them with their problem. I also like to advise members here. The members here are cool peoples.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I would feel the HQness bind with my soul (lol jk I mean my account.)
I'll try to be HQ,mate.

And thanks for hosting this giveaway.
Good luck,mates.

Viktory - April 16, 2015, 11:37 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Learning and teaching, website hacking and cryptography.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Helping people out over at Skype, the w&fh subforum and cryptography and beginner sections.
Made a fun challenge at w&fh subforum (more to come!). Also giving away some tool I made as a process of learning a language.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

People think what I post is not credible & get ignored most of the time just because I don't have a shiny name.

But apart from that, I don't really deserve it anymore than the next guy.

Thanks op and good luck everyone else =]

What is your main interest on HackForums?

My main interest on Hack Forums is to make good friends and get good laughs out of people by posting random yet funny stuff that I know people will think are goofy and laugh at.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I can't say for sure what I have contributed as that is up to the members who have seen my posts. I mostly post funny, goofy posts, and I hope that people don't think of me as too big of a troll but I know I get some great laughs out of people.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel that I should receive this upgrade as I have been trying hard to rebuild my Hack Forums account. I used to have -7 reputation and I built all the way up and am feeling confident about this forum. I stay on it 24/7 and there really isn't a time that I am not on it. I have enjoyed and and it made me realize a few things too. It made me realize that people are out to put you down but it's up to you to be down or just ignore it.

Good luck to the other people entering this contest :) I wish you all luck.

The Last of Us - April 16, 2015, 2:40 pm

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I love reading/learning new things about hacking and all that good stuff.
Im currently learning programming, pentesting and some more things.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I've spent most of my time on HF helping people with RATs and malware.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I dont think I "deserve" this more then other members, but id love to win this contest.

Goodluck to everyone one else!

DLT. - April 17, 2015, 8:02 am

After having multiple requests asking for an UB3R upgrade, i've added that into the current contest to hopefully get some more views, participants.

G???????f????s? - April 17, 2015, 8:56 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I'm a fan of the SRPP section, the lounge, the gaming section, basically everywhere.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Currently working on trying to get Hexicidal to do some shit in the name of our group. Not going so well >:(

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I'm less fortunate when it comes to the world of cash, contrary to what some members seem to never forget, when my skype was hacked and stolen. I'm trying to get Ub3r because I think it'll help when I eventually start to sell some products here on HF.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Mainly just hanging out, meeting new people and learning new things. HackForums has taught me a lot. It has taught me most things revolving around graphic design and web design. HF also gave me quite a few good business ideas. I am also constantly looking for new opportunities to open new businesses

Compression - April 17, 2015, 9:21 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Helping out others, hanging in the lounge and teaching users new things and learning new things.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have made a nice tutorial, a thread where I help any users that have something to ask about hacking.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel I have contributed quite a bit to Hackforums and if I become Ub3r I will be able to help more users and have a cool blue tag saying that I am ub3r. Not only that, but I feel that some people won't talk to you, or respond to a PM or help you out unless you're an Ub3r. I try to change that, but I don't believe I could do that on a forum wide scale. I believe if I help some users out that won't get help by other members, or get criticized or judged based on what rank you are.

Thank you and good luck to everyone else.

Ta-kun - April 17, 2015, 9:26 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Well my main interest has always been to learn what I can and to then help others with the knowledge that I have obtained.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Nothing large money wise, but when it comes to helping others and contributing to the forums I do what I can.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I think I deserve this because not only have I been approved, but I've done nothing but help and contribute what I know to the forum.

Note: I'm entering for Ub3r and yes I have been approved.

?Saadi - April 17, 2015, 9:41 am

I'd love to win a 3p1c upgrade.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I just love Hack Forums, the community here is vast & you can interact with them on various topics, ranging from Daily Life discussions to Hacking & Marketplace. It's just amazing. ? ?

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I've helped out quite a lot of members in the Education Nation section, hosted giveaways in the past & been helping people out with psychiatric disorders lately. ?

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel, I deserve this because I've been quite active here lately and been here since the past 4 years. I'm trying to save up for my monthly medications, so I can't really afford to buy 3p1c right now.

Rivalry - April 17, 2015, 9:48 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Well, I suppose I'm in Polymath for a reason. I don't have a specific single main area of interest, but rather I'm generally active in graphics sections, SRPP, Education Nation, and group sub-forums. Graphics are an amazing way for me to relax and unwind, and I've been self-teaching myself for over 4 years now (I use the present tense because one can never 'finish' learning graphics; it's an endless curve of improvement). SRPP is something I frequent because I debate at a national level irl, and it's fun for me to challenge not only other people's views but also my own- to have to sit down and think hard about why I actually support or oppose something is really useful for me, and helps to develop my world-view, and hopefully from time to time I can educate others or help them to re-assess their world-view through my posts (well, my reputation would bear this out to an extent). Finally, Education Nation is a section that I really enjoy. I have my own help-desk in there, and I try to offer the best advice that I can on areas I can help with like English/arts subjects, or university. It's my own small way of giving back with every post, I guess.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

You can study my profile and be the judge of this for yourself, but here are a few links.

If you're in any of my groups (specifically L'appel du Vide) then you'll be able to see a lot more threads that I didn't want to link here since they're in group sub-forums.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I'd like an Epic upgrade because I think I've contributed a lot to the site. I try to do so in mostly good humour, and without being sucked into any of these pointless sycophantic award-hugging internet-marketeering circlejerks that infest the internet. I just try to help people, kick back, not take HF too seriously, and hope that I'm having a generally constructive impact on the site. Of course, that's not for me to judge, but thanks for reading, and above all thanks for hosting this contest- it's always pretty heart-warming to see people hosting giveaways like this, but especially so when they do so without hope of reward through getting traffic to their ebook sales threads or whatever :)

Well I signed up to Hackforums to learn more about hacking and stuff I wanted to be 1337 hacker 'nd shit, but I never really had a good look at the hacking section. I usually just spend my time in The Lounge or in the Gaming section.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I don't feel like I deserve it, but I gotta take my chances.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

To learn about internet marketing, make new friends and learn more about the internet in general.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have been on HF contributing since 2009, was one of the first reviewer's group leader, and at some point had the most rep on HF when everyone could only +1 (before ub3r and the two site wide rep resets omni made).

I have gave away well over 10k+$ in contests, accounts, upgrades, and general donations to HF. In short I used to be quite renowned back then Blush I was there when hf was in need, when it was being ddosed on their old server. Donated when they needed help.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel very under appreciated ever since that harsh repfuck and ban for ing a thread too much. At the same time I am happy to see HF members like you continuing to contribute. Just like the old times when people had contests for thousands of dollars giving out upgrades.

Thanks for doing such an awesome contest

[So far I have given away my e-books and posted in the religion and politics but I plan to do more if I get UB3R]

HACKED - April 18, 2015, 1:00 am

Entering for Ep1c!

What is your main interest on HackForums?

In the past I became a member of HF mainly for the hacking section. I always liked reading tutorials and learning such things because I perceive hacking as a really nice and unique interest. Currently I spend most of my time in the marketplace.

I have hosted several giveaways and generally I like it.

I also like lounge and the money section.

Finally I like reading the ideas of others in religious and such topics.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

My mainly contribution is in the marketplace.

In the past I used to click links for others, subscribe to channels and like/comment to videos.

I have also given ebooks, hitleap traffic, methods, credits, games and whatever I found I shared it with the community!

Recently I have hosted 3 money giveaways:

1)[PP Giveaway for L33ts and Ub3rs \[still open\]](#)

2)[BTC Giveaway for L33ts and Ub3rs \[closed\]](#)

3)[PP giveaway for normal members \[closed\]](#)

4)And just created my 1st contest!

I know they are not the best giveaways offering awesome and unique stuff but this is what ? could offer.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I think that I deserve the upgrade mainly for the reason that I am an active member for almost 2 years and probably a high quality member according to most people. It is difficult for me to purchase Ub3r because I am a teenager and reasing the money may take too lon(if raised xD). In case of becoming upgraded all my current savings will be given away.

Anyway, thanks a lot for hosting such a giveaway!

P. S: screenshot of approval: Spoiler (Click to View)

Edit: Fixed my post!

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Learning new stuff, let's call it self education. I came to this place because there was a nice community and just so many things to learn.

I think self education is more important than the education you get in college/university (it's still important!), so HF is the ideal place.

Nowadays besides of learning new stuff, I also love contributing to the forums, helping others and making contacts.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Besides helping people in their threads, I made a few tutorials and helpful stuff myself:

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I'm contributing to HF on a regular basis and I help out people whenever they are stuck with a problem. I never really monetized the knowledge I gained, instead I prefer to offer my help for free.

The only upgrade I'm missing right now is the 3p1c one, and this would definitely encourage me to spend even more time on here ?

Anime section mainly, half of my posts or maybe even more than half are from there, however I originally joined for the gaming section which I still visit every now and then.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Helping people with recommendations in the anime section, helping people choose the right gear for their desktops in the hardware section sometimes when I visit it or giving tips in the cs go section.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

Because there's almost no one with this amount of posts and activity that isn't upgraded at all and honestly I would upgrade but I just can't :l

Applying For : L33T upgrade

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Well, the main purpose of me joining this community was to learn and give what I have learnt back. I already had a quite deep knowledge of the things that interest me i.e. account cracking, android rooting, flashing, bootloading etc. I learnt more about that in this and that would be my interest to conduct giveaways, witting tutorials, informative text on the concerned subject.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have conducted a few giveaways on gaming codes and all, wrote two tutorials on android rooting and why to root (which was appreciated) . I have also helped a few user's about questions on the forums and BTC. And I'm also working on a project which is halfway done, an account generator of premium accounts which will generate a new account for any website right then.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel that I deserve this upgrade as I need some more respect around new member's here so that I could sell me product to wider range of audience (the l33t trust factor) and I could contribute more. I'd say that I have accomplished your above stated requirements and will be a HQ user.

Thanks for the giveaway mate!
cheers

I am mainly here for the Lounge, I stick around there all day doing nothing but replying to posts, I sometimes visit the hacking area to help out, but not every time.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I had done a really small Bitcoin giveaway, you can see that on my posts plus I made one or two tutorials too, maybe one was "How to write anything on a piece of paper with Photoshop" and other was "How to get a .tk domain" these are still there in my posts.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel I must win this award because I am a high quality member, I was here for six months, and I was not active, but from Feb 2015 to now I am really active I made 2000 posts right today, I try my best to help people out, I rarely go flaming, and I am kind. And this is why I would like an Epic upgrade.

Thanks for reading.

(PS: 2000'th post Yeee!!!).

Learner Boy - April 19, 2015, 6:05 am

Firstly if you can see I am not a member which has a High Rep or has a high post count. The reason being I joined Hack Forums in Feb 2015. I am 17 year old student. Well I can explain why I don't have a high post count or a High because of the fact that ever since I joined Hack Forums I used to be it all day wandering around the monetizing section, the free give away section or for that matter in the Hiring section primarily because I had no money and wanted to make some. I would write posts all around the section to just mix up and feel what it is like to be the part of such a huge community. I also bought two eBooks both which cost around 17$ and I guess 13$ respectively. I must say I wasn't much amazed after seeing the eBooks and lost all my savings in it. After that I suddenly had trouble logging in to Hack Forums just because of the fact that I lost my Password and recovery link didn't work for me. This is the reason why I was inactive for 3-4 weeks. I tried to take the help of Factor8 to help me restore my account, eventually it took me like 4-5 weeks to restore my account and I thank Factor 8 for doing so ! So eventually I am here at Hack forums after a gap of 1 month with absolutely no money left. If you check my profile you can see me wandering around the giveaway section or for that matter showing interest of me being hired to get a quick buck because I don't have any money .

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I mainly wander around the Monetizing section and the Marketplace section to see what's new and even bought a couple of eBooks from the monetizing section. I must if I had used that much of money on upgrading myself I would have been more than happy and satisfied. In the marketplace section I wander around mostly because I like to see what service people provide and have shown keen interest in them. I have also thought of providing some sort of service to people but backed off primarily because of the reason I thought due to my low Rep it all would go in a waste.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have wrote posts and replies as you can see (Not much) and 3 threads, 1 of which I guess got some attention as the thread I wrote titled "Why People Sell Their Money Making Methods" and I guess it helped a lot of users on Hackforums and helped them clear their doubts. The thread got locked because I mainly I guess I wasn't active for weeks due to the problem. I couldn't write more because of the account problem as I have told you. If I had been active for that month in which my account was locked you could have expected a higher thread and Post count from me. All the posts I have written I have advised members on various issues and have given them some options.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

To be honest, I don't think I deserve an upgrade. Like why should you upgrade a person who has merely a Rep of +1 and not much of a high post count? I feel like sharing my story in Hackforums with all you people. I am not posting all this so you would show sympathy towards me and grant me an upgrade? NO ! not at all. I am just saying of all the things I have gone through, I would be much obliged if someone granted me an upgrade.

Regards
Learner

What is your main interest on HackForums?

At first when i started i was interested in hacking, later on thought this forum provides basic stuff and i managed to grab the knowledge as much as i needed to got for advanced stuff which i acquire from Google through some blogs. Later on i was interested in making some money to invest and make it more but landed up with nothing as i needed some initial investment to start with. Now i just browse all the sections and answer people's question for the knowledge that i have grabbed these past years.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I couldn't explain what type of contribution you are asking, you can have a look at my threads for my giveaways done in past, now i just help people virtually with their question and contribute my time and knowledge.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I believe in helping people and in return i expect it from some others and by far this theory has worked out for me.

Some one from this forum upgraded me from Normal to l33t in late 2012 and from l33t to Ub3r in 2013 i guess and the person who upgraded me from l33t to Ub3r also gifted me an award. So i feel that i should me Epic member now to have that special features done from Omniscient to the group.

Thanks for reading this application and good luck all.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

When I first joined, many years ago, my main interest was plain and simple hacking. I tried different areas such as eWhoring and griefing but it just wasn't for me. I was intrigued by it but over time I realised it was deeper than I thought, I learnt basic skills such as HTML and CSS and Photoshop. Recently though, due to school and life I have become very inactive which is a shame really and the community has changed big time, I remember a few faces here and there. I mostly lurk now a days around the minecraft section not knowing really how to get back into the swing of things.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I made this tutorial, but that was two years ago, I plan on making some more :l

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I really think it would really help me get back into the swing of things.

Isabelle - April 20, 2015, 1:05 am

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I came here for the market and to get hands-on experience with security. I'm pursuing sysadmin and networking sec degrees and the tools offered here are invaluable to trying it all out. However, what kept me around is the community. I know HF gets a bad rep for being immature, but having gone through my 15-18 year old stage on runescape fan forums many years ago, I can say that HF really isn't that bad. I enjoy the people here, and can honestly say I've made some great friends in the short time I've been here.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I try to help out everyone I can. Ever since my first week here, I've been able to help people figure out a couple mundane problems and move up from there.

However now that I've really got some skills, I'm able to help in other ways. I'm in the process of writing an ebook currently, and offering a mentoring service, which I plan to use to give back to the community. My free time is limited, with a (crappy) job, college classes, SO, etc, but I hope to contribute more in the future.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

Being Ub3r would help me out a lot, since I plan to use the market place much more. I'll be quitting my job next semester and taking up classes full time, so money will be tighter then than ever, and I hope by then I'll be able to sell my services and form partnerships, so instead of trying to make money busting tables, I can focus on my technological side and make some money on the side doing that instead. I'm sure there's many others that want something similar, and deserve it just as much, or possibly more than I do, but while money is tight I can say this would help out a lot. I've done my best to be a positive influence and keep my posts as HQ as possible.

Application for Ub3r

What is your main interest on HackForums?

There's a multitude of interests that I have on HackForums. Ill start with a couple of them in order. - Gaming, Learning, Helping others. I've alwAys been around in the gaming section of certain games. I also learned a few things reading over tutorials or even learned more by helping others. Finally, when I'm helping others the only thing I benefit is making the other person happy and it makes my day.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have yet to contribute and I hope this doesn't compromise my chance. I'm trying to fix my computer in order to give back to the community, I'm also planning to do more and that's affecting me not doing anything back to the community. It's hard to do that while on a phone.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I've always wanted to be on the blue side of HF get since I got approved. I can't seem to pay for it because I'm currently saving for my other parts for my PC etc. I feel if I was to get ub3r I would be drawn more into HF. I've been slacking a bit and I'm trying to become more into HF, currently I'm posting more and hoping I can keep helping others and being HQ.

Thanks for this opportunity,

My main interest when I joined was to learn, and now I am a member for so many years. I had a rough patch and didn't come online for some time and now I am back roaming some stuff about money heheh. I used to be very active in Social Engineering section but it got closed long ago and I lost interest. Now I am here to find a new interest and start from there.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I didn't contribute much to forum lately. But I used to write tutorials on weekly base in all kinds of subforums. I plan to continue doing this now that I am back on forums again. But to mention my largest contribution and one I was upgraded to leet and ub3r by other members would be my and my groups final attempt few years ago to save the Social Engineering section at which we sadly failed. If you want to know more about it PM me ill tell you about it.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

To be honest I do not deserve this upgrade at the moment. But I will soon. I am not sure when you will be choosing a winner but I will start to contribute again.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Well, I was mainly on the grieving section. Now that has changed and I'm all over the place commenting everywhere, its pretty ridiculous. I have been away lately doing and dealing with personal/life issues and now I'm back. I usually am either on the Lounge, Griefing, Innuendo, or a random section on this forum.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I've done a few tutorial threads, and I've also helped and given feedback to members of this community. I also have helped people outside of the site too!

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I don't deserve it by any means, I would just like to be upgraded because I've been here for a very long time and never been an UB3R. I would make my week if I get upgraded.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

At first I started to Ewhore, then got into ratting, and all that other stuff. Right now I mainly hang around the lounge as I quickly post because I'm working on projects and programs for my family business. I don't necessarily have a main interest per say because I browse basically every forum category and I just like reading up on things.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Not much just some codes and words of wisdom to help others that are in need but I will be contributing A LOT more within the next few days/weeks because I finally have time to actually get into hackforums and I finally have the knowledge to contribute to it.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I guess I can't explain why I truly deserve it over everyone else, because we all have our perks right? But I would like to be upgraded because I believe it will stand out, get my name out there, and I'll be contributing tons of new and free things to HF quite soon. I've always wanted to be an UB3R and it would totally make my day/week to get an upgrade.

Good luck to everyone else :) I hope you consider me.

Well, I suppose I'm in Polymath for a reason. I don't have a specific single main area of interest, but rather I'm generally active in graphics sections, SRPP, Education Nation, and group sub-forums.

Graphics are an amazing way for me to relax and unwind, and I've been self-teaching myself for over 4 years now (I use the present tense because one can never 'finish' learning graphics; it's an endless curve of improvement). SRPP is something I frequent because I debate at a national level irl, and it's fun for me to challenge not only other people's views but also my own- to have to sit down and think hard about why I actually support or oppose something is really useful for me, and helps to develop my world-view, and hopefully from time to time I can educate others or help them to re-assess their world-view through my posts (well, my reputation would bear this out to an extent). Finally, Education Nation is a section that I really enjoy. I have my own help-desk in there, and I try to offer the best advice that I can on areas I can help with like English/arts subjects, or university. It's my own small way of giving back with every post, I guess.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I'd like an Epic upgrade because I think I've contributed a lot to the site. I try to do so in mostly good humour, and without being sucked into any of these pointless sycophantic award-hugging internet-marketeering circlejerks that infest the internet. I just try to help people, kick back, not take HF too seriously, and hope that I'm having a generally constructive impact on the site. Of course, that's not for me to judge, but thanks for reading, and above all thanks for hosting this contest- it's always pretty heart-warming to see people hosting giveaways like this, but especially so when they do so without hope of reward through getting traffic to their ebook sales threads or whatever :) Granted the 3P1C upgrade.

I'll keep this open for a little longer to see if any other members catches my eye.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

HF News, Computing & Gaming section these days.

I was HF Writer once. I miss those old days.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I've helped a few people then and there. Besides that, I can only say my Tech news contribution to the HF via HF News for several weeks.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?
I personally feel it's better to be epic than to be an uber. ;)

What is your main interest on HackForums?

Once it was coding and "hacking" in general but now it's vices (drug section)

What have you contributed so far on HF?

Mainly just chat around and so on, I guess information and a few very simple and noobie programs.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

Well I really can't say I deserve it, I'm sure there's many others who deserve it more than me.

What is your main interest on HackForums?

I really enjoy helping the community and seeing what peeps are up to. I'm always giving members money, (as shown in my rep) and love making people smile.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have contributed my L33T upgrade, and gave members any extra cash I had, (I give only if they ask, I don't to threads because it's obviously hinting for rep.)

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I feel like I deserve UB3R (Accepted for UB3R) so I could be more motivated than I already am to help people, write ebooks/make programs to help people at no cost, and I treat every member equally (willing to purchase something from a non upgraded member like they're UB3R)

What is your main interest on HackForums?

My main interest on HF is the COCH section and the community sections. I primarily check the new posts and COCH section for threads that interest me.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I mostly contribute to the COCH section and just I out my 2 cents to any thread that interest me.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I try to be positive as possible on the forums to help out, and don't have the funds to buy l33t myself and having a larger inbox, being able to give rep and having more permissions would just be nice.

Thanks in advance, this is a nice thread :)

What is your main interest on HackForums?

My main interest on Hackforums exists within the white hat section of the forum. Where we interact with a wide range of members on HF, aiding them with the removal of malware, checking on their pc, any other malware and adware related problems, and sharing advice on proper security setups. I enjoy helping others in the white hat section because the effects are instant and therefore you get a sense that you actually are helping others pretty easily.

What have you contributed so far on HF?

I have contributed to HF in various ways, I usually help people who are stuck in a rut and need service quick and easy. I also help out others who can't necessarily afford proper av setups by giving them keys for both eset and malwarebytes. (they are legit) I am also one of the lucky 5 people on HF who were chosen by sneak to undergo a malware removal training course that will last approximately 2 months. Hopefully, you guys will see me much more often in the white hat section once I complete my training.

Why do you feel you deserve this upgrade?

I want to show my appreciation to those who have aided me in the past via rep. I also wish I had a larger inbox so I would not have to delete important messages that I have sent and those that I have received. Though I have to admit, there are those that deserve it more than me.

Thx for the opportunity. Really appreciate it. :D
