So my ipod is completely locked I couldn't remember my login screen password so I tried wiping it completely using itunes and now it's asking for my email and password I know the email but I don't know the password and I can't login into my emails what so ever and i've heard it costs to take it to apple and get it fixed.

Is there any way I can do it?

Why can you not login to your emails?

I've forgotten my password, I'm one of these people that forgot their password for everything.

This wasn't exactly a very relevant post.

Try getting the password to 'your' emails.
