- Generators have database of cracked accounts?
- Can owner of account change password?
- Can I change password?
- If I change password can owner restore its account?

Thanks in advance!

"disclosed". Well, here is something that isn't disclosed. That project that is giving you at least over 150$ /month was my project, and I was the one who found the original team behind. The project has faced more troubles than you can imagine, but yet it survived. The live chat which once was on site, my idea. You could show some respect and share a little, I wanna know what my days of hard work paid out to.

I just wanted to leave a vouch for Cory and Justify's account generator program. This thing is super legit. Great selection of services to choose from. And the best part is the customer service. I had an account issue on Sunday Night, and I was really expecting that I'd have to wait till the next day to get a reply. To my pleasant surprise Cory jumped on Skype within 20 minutes and fixed my issue. Great stuff, great program. It gets my recommendation for sure.

Chargebacks will lead to a scam report, clearly explained in our tos. Send your username and transaction ID to cory and he'll upgrade your account as soon he's online. If you would have taken your time to read 1 or 2 pages it clearly says we've got hacked and told everyone to re-register, so GG.
