Depends on the person?

Why does this thread exist?

PurePurgeHD - April 18, 2015, 2:15 pm

Pink...? ? ? ?

hahdbwoannniabs - April 18, 2015, 4:05 pm

I am the elitest orangehat hacker that ever walked this earth.

Shadowbarcode64 - April 18, 2015, 4:18 pm

I'd rather choose whitehat, i don't want to risk going to jail :D

Geno - April 18, 2015, 4:52 pm

Ask yourself if you enjoy prison really quick and then you'll know.

White hat is clearly the best, but if you're looking to make a lot of money fast then the other options are available at your own risk.

That's how I look at it.

There are 1000 other versions of this thread, there is no need for another.

The Unloved - April 18, 2015, 5:09 pm

I am what I am and you know what I am.

The Listener - April 18, 2015, 5:09 pm

Ok, here's a question. However you answer it, it depends on white hat or black hat.

If you found a major bug on Google .com and you had the power to destroy the website, would you warn them about the bug so they can fix it and save Google .com, or would you exploit the bug and destroy Google .com?

Raz3r - April 18, 2015, 5:16 pm

It all depends how much $$ is involved.
But I would mostly classify my self as a white/grey(ish).

Convictus - April 18, 2015, 8:02 pm

I'll give you a basic summary of what each one does and the benefits of them.

White Hat - These are your professional 'cyber security' experts who work for companies. These hackers typically post their vulnerabilities and do not do it for fame, but for legal money.

Grey Hat - Borderline hackers. They will report vulnerabilities but also harvest some data they like. This type can result in prison time if abused.

Black Hat - The fun kind. These are the 'criminals' you hear about on the news. They want fame and money, doing anything illegal.

What kind would I suggest? Grey. Black will get you caught if abused and white is boring.

Hope I helped. ?

Goodies - April 18, 2015, 8:28 pm

I am not a racist. If you're white or black, you should have a right to be a hacker.

Thehackerguy1 - April 18, 2015, 8:29 pm

Give me dark purple (Minecraft obsidian color) hat.

Silfy - April 18, 2015, 8:31 pm

Depends on what kind of person you are/you want to be.

Whitehat is mostly good people trying to get rid of viruses etc

Greyhat is a bit of both

Blackhat is virus and keyloggers etc.

SLY - April 23, 2015, 6:39 am well you need to understand what each term means and decide which path you want to take. Black hat is probably the easiest.

Cyber - April 23, 2015, 6:42 am just ask yourself if you're a piece of shit that can't work for a living and if the answer is yes then you could be a blackhat hacker. anyone that steals is a piece of crap low life.
