Spoiler (Click to View) If you're interested in joining our group simply for the userbar, walk away I don't want you here. I could give a rats ass about your money for the userbar, the only way you're even going to have admission into Null is via the recruitment or the mentoring service. If you've joined for mentoring service and are unable to make certain class timings, talk to a mentor they're there for you. If you miss more then 6 classes without making them up, you'll be removed from the group. We're taking this serious and so should you, if you don't plan to be serious don't bother paying or applying.

Great thread, thanks for making it, very informative.

Tokyo ? - April 19, 2015, 12:26 pm

Yes, The Black Hand is now officially a sub division within Null. If you have any questions regarding the group please contact myself or Dubitus. Great information thread Nobility, thank you for clarifying.

Sakura-chan - April 19, 2015, 12:28 pm

yo, you know you wanna add me... pl0x

The One of the best and worth group on HF is null , legendary group too

J. Lewis - April 19, 2015, 1:03 pm

I envy people who are in Null, it would definitely be an honor to be a part of such a HQ group.

Yeah I'm emphasizing the "We're here for you" part. I'm on GMT+3 and I enjoy sleepless nights, meaning my timing will be horrible for most US people. I can easily fixate a lesson that will suit the majority of the students while making sure I'm not losing too much health. I can also do private sessions per each student that missed a lesson to quickly try to give him 50% of what he lost - That is only possible for those that legit couldn't make it.

Anyway, good luck for possible applicants and good info.

I would honestly say that Sonder is most likely the most patient guy when mentoring. Cheers.

Great group with intelligent individuals. I recommend this to anyone who truly wants to learn and expand there knowledge in certain areas. Hoping to see new faces ?

zerokhaos - April 19, 2015, 6:09 pm

I would highly recommend this to anybody wanted to learn more about programming, doxing, malware, basically anything to do with computers, to get in on this. It's taught by a great set of patient teachers that'll make sure you get what they're teaching, definitely worth the $$$.

0x - April 19, 2015, 6:22 pm

Good luck to all applicants and future students.

Nobility - April 22, 2015, 10:13 am

I'll be adding some of the sub-forum rules into the original post soon.

lulzcat - April 24, 2015, 3:31 am

I am interested in applying, I have a fairly extensive CV and personal experience in some fields that I think relate to the group. Is their a particular person I should contact? I would prefer my application to be private (Hidden from general public)

Look forward to hearing back from you.

Thornzzz - April 24, 2015, 7:19 am

So Nobility, when am I going to get that invite?

grady - April 24, 2015, 7:33 am

Worth it all the way, if you have the opportunity, take it.

Nobility - April 24, 2015, 6:05 pm

I've added the new link for mentoring, we'll only be taking two more then we'll close shop on the mentoring till July/August - <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4793402>
