I came across some program that works with the yahoo registration page
<http://wareseeker.com/download/ycc-yahoo-bot-maker-2.4.1.rar/7d1f0ec08>

Essentially, it auto-fills and or randomizes the info put into the fields based on criteria you give it. Once you process your query, it will retrieve the cachpha, and all you gotta do is enter that in the program and bam, there's +1 more email. Its got a few more features too. Well anyway back to a question I got.

Well for one, the program aint workin anymore. But idc about that. I was wondering, is there any other free programs like this to use on other sites like hotmail or any other email provider? Are there firefox addons that can help me create some emails with more effieciency?

Please, thanks, I need a few hundred emails. its a TLDR story. Also, I can't use mailinator.
