Thread: [Scammed by Boo God - \$203.98 \[uid=1125635\]](#)

ext6024 - April 28, 2015, 12:17 am

I was recently scammed by the user BooGod (UID: 1125635) for $203.98 worth of CS:GO items. He claims his account was compromised, but I find this unlikely based on the circumstances, even so, his account is his responsibility, a number of members have agreed with me, including Factor8.

Conversation via HF PMs

Spoiler (Click to View)

Conversation via Skype (He claims that this isn't him)

Spoiler (Click to View)

Proof that items were delivered on my part

Spoiler (Click to View)

I wasn't entirely sure if I was in the wrong by creating a scam report but prior to posting this thread, I had contacted Factor8 and had spoken to numerous members regarding the matter.

I feel that this user could've easily blagged his way out of it and claimed that he'd be hacked, maybe his account was genuinely breached but in this situation, I feel that his account was his responsibility and that if he had used common sense instead of getting infected and not changing his e-mail/pass making any attempt to warn people that his account had been breached, you can see here that when trust-scanning the user, you can see that Gauth was not activated and he had no e-mail change along with 1 sign in from the same country.

Spoiler (Click to View)

I'd also like to add that he had attempted to scam Isabelle, proof will be added later.

I must leave for school, I will post updates along with a log of the current conversation that we're having via Skype whenever I'm home.

In conclusion, I would not recommend dealing with this user.

Edit: He claimed that he was going to refund the money but refused to even pay a small amount of it and is now ignoring me.

Looks like a legit scam report, GL with getting your items back OP.

The GRim - April 28, 2015, 12:21 am

Legit scam report. Let's see if he will reply here.

BooGod - April 28, 2015, 12:25 am

This scam report is fully real. My personal computer was infected/ratted by infinitycold (<https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=743601>)

My computer is still infected, but I am not using it just smartphone and my brothers computer. I please ask the OP to add to the thread the username skype of the all skype accounts he have talk with doing this deal. And I would like to know the profile of the user who received that items (the steam profile).

I will later in any way to pay OP for this. I did not this deal and it was not me, but I want to clear my name since it was from my account. But I will fuck up the member who did infected me.

Isabelle - April 28, 2015, 12:25 am

I can also confirm the user in question did contact me on the same day as the victim. He PM'd me on HF telling me to add his skype "boogod.hf". It was quite obvious he attempted to scam me right off the bat, offering me $150 up front for my knife while the highest offer was only $70 prior, and the market price is only about $120. In addition to this he stated I had to go first or find a middleman, and after saying I'd be using Package or another he stopped replying.

I didn't feel like I needed to open a scam report since I wasn't actually scammed, and by the end of the day he had vacation banned himself. There's no doubt about the fact that someone with access to his account scammed gunishment and attempted to scam others, however whether or not it was actually boogod himself isn't provable yet, but it does seem fishy.

It'd be nice if Boogod reimbursed the above poster, considering the fact that he's responsible for his account and he certainly has the funds to payback what was stolen. However he certainly isn't "entitled" to pay it back, but it'd be a nice gesture and certainly prove a point to the fact that he wasn't behind it. Just my two-five cents.

I have been scammed before and I know how it feels and how it sucks. But could you please take print screens of the conversation on HF? In my account there's no messages with you just with the:

OP

Reward

Trihunter3 and Jump! which these two didn't deal since I saw what was happening in time telling them to do not go forward with their deal.

Yes, account. What about my computer that I can't use anymore? I needed to change PW's of all my emails, paypal, ebay, amazon, aeriagames account password, reddit. I had much trouble, and I still didn't kill the process in my computer "sys64.exe(32)"

And yes, I am taking the responsibility Casino. I am just fucked up I will never more deal with anyone on here. Members infecting members and doesn't get ban, staff can check the IP's and messages that were deleted and nothing can do. So yes, I am very fucked up and I am trying to fix this.

@Isabelle I never used the vocation ban, and I never was banned till yesterday because I asked Viral Dragon to do so.

That's the only PM I received, afterwards I added the account on my semi-private skype after I saw the rep and such and figured it'd be an easy and quick deal.

here's the skype conversation:

<https://puu.sh/htFhZ/92c82e80fd.png>

the red flags that it was a scam were pretty blatant when he talked to me. I guess he learned his lesson after I declined and tried to be a bit more convincing about it.

I am glad that this didn't happen to you as it happened to OP. If everyone check my threads and posts, I have never posted anything related to CS GO items or high amounts of exchange as it was going to happen with the others users I wrote in the previous post.

But I will try to solve this. And in few hours I will ask someone from staff that can help me removing the infection from my computer because I don't feel I can trust anyone else

Honestly at that point, I'd say just back up the important documents and reformat.

But yeah, I did look through your profile when the hijacker was messaging me and thought it was very odd that "you" had never trying to buy or sell cs:go items in the past, and were suddenly very interested in buying everyone's items.

I hope it works out for the best for you, sorry it happened.

I'd say it would have made more sense if:

5PM (example time): Messaged you telling you to add him on Skype

8PM (example time): You added him

8:30PM (example time): Get scammed, account could be breached

If that's how it went, he could've been sleeping legit. But if it's how you said it, then I highly doubt that's the case.

First of all, he did talk with someone on skype and that skype wasn't mine. Has he says it was boogod.hf or something like this check in his thread. My skype is my own irl name, so it is kelfrensouza you all can check in my threads. And yes AXiS my last password change was in 27 of April after I see someone sending and receiving PM's on my account. The person that ratted me is: infinitycold = <https://hackforums.net/member.php?action=profile&uid=743601>

I am not answering OP because he's being annoying, I told him that would take time because I have been not selling for a long time so he was stupid buying CSGO things from my account when my account threads and posts have never and it has nothing with this game.

One more thing, I am aware that my name is dirty. And I am going to clean my name just because I have things to do in future on this forum and it ruins what I have been working for. So I will be giving you money, the dude that scammed you will be winning also, and I am just the only fucked up here so don't be an idiot.

What Betrayed does isn't anything to do with me, the fact that you're making such accusations when this is all your fault is fucking disgusting, you're the scammer in this predicament, either resolve it or keep your reputation as a scammer, not my choice... Yes, and I will lose that amount from my pocket too and no one will give me back so you just wait even if take one year I don't care. My account was compromised I am making the money online so you just need to wait I have told you at least 3 times to wait I already have your paypal e-mail. "That I have It's your responsibility to secure/safeguard your ac. If the ac is used to scam/harm the community, then you're responsible."

So if you are a fucking smartass as you think you are. You could understand that my account was really compromised. And not used from my two pc IP's logins.

I am trying to make money online to pay you this shit and you can't wait? You haven't even lost money. I will give the items you gave to the other user, and I WANT TO KNOW THOSE ITEMS AND SCREENSHOTS OF THE ITEMS TRANSACTIONS OR WHATEVER HOW IT WORKS. You don't need to keep trying to prove your point, I honestly couldn't care less, it's YOUR fault and I've lost $200. I'm not entirely sure why you're saying that I've not lost money when I clearly have... You don't seem to be that bothered to be honest and you're making yourself seem like a bit of a twat, either refund me or don't... simple as.
P.S. $200 isn't a massive amount of money to me but I'm obviously going to open a scam report, who wouldn't?

And claiming that I'm associated with infinitycold and betrayed saying that we've plotted some master plan to scam $200 from you is really childish, get a grip.

ext6024 - June 20, 2015, 3:57 am

User STILL has not made any attempts to contact and refund ANY of the money.
I'd also like to add that the money scammed would've been used to purchase a birthday present for my girlfriend which is why I decided to sell the items quickly here and I'm almost certain that he shows no regret and IS a danger to the HackForums community, be careful of this user.

I'd like to OP give me all ways of contact to reach him in future, skype, email, phone contact if something happens to one of us in the forum getting banned I still want to pay this. I have been not having money, some money that I had I invested in one project ($30) to accomplish in clearing my name. I am not going to pay it just yet because I do not have that amount you've lost, and I am not looking to pay in pieces as you requested once in the past. I want to pay it in full regardless when I will pay. I am trying to make some money so I can clear my name as soon as possible. I hope OP understands, and apologies to my behavior replying in this thread at that time, I was pissed of that this happened to me and most important, to you that my mistakes made you lose your money.

I hope you understand my situation, my old method is not working anymore which I have used in 2014.

I am working on it, and I hope to pay you soon, sorry one more time.

I have been not having money, some money that I had I invested in one project ($30) to accomplish in clearing my name. I am not going to pay it just yet because I do not have that amount you've lost, and I am not looking to pay in pieces as you requested once in the past. I want to pay it in full regardless when I will pay. I am trying to make some money so I can clear my name as soon as possible. I hope OP understands, and apologies to my behavior replying in this thread at that time, I was pissed of that this happened to me and most important, to you that my mistakes made you lose your money.

I hope you understand my situation, my old method is not working anymore which I have used in 2014.

I am working on it, and I hope to pay you soon, sorry one more time.

He PM'd me Some IP's and when I got access to one of them he said it doesn't have the data he was expecting there. It took 3 days of my efforts.

I said I usually charge $1k fo the effort, he offered $50 then negotiated that he will pay me $300 in 3 months. Blocked me then.

Be careful of this user.
