Just because your account funds were removed doesn't mean you're getting banned. Just means they reset your money.

edit: if they reset your money multiple times then that probably means you will be banned as they know you're intentionally finding players to give you money.

After contacting them asking why it said I was trying to transfer character when I just click play online, they said that it was because the character on the social club that was cheated with, was transfered from my xbox (which is true) and the game is trying to read that character when I go to play online.

IMO they sounded retarded but its their explanation. Either way I cant play online anymore, asked when the ban would be lifted and they said it was permanent.

You clearly did something else, They don't ban you for just getting money, They don't even ban the xbox cheaters, they put them in cheater lobbies.

Did you SE the game?

Did you SE the game?Yes I SE'd the game off steam market with my credit card man.... I purchased it on the market and they banned me for it..... I literally joined his lobby and got rolled back 2 hours later, another 3 hours later I got banned. Why the fuck would I sit here and lie about being banned on a game? Not Like I paid for his service and am asking for a refund. Hop off my dick people holy shit.

It's not only sold on steam, and CC/Paypal is not the only payment method for most other stores.

I'm asking because you got banned out of the blue, Seeing as 100's of tards have been using cheatengine to just chuck millions into the game bit by bit, and even more of them managed to install the mod menus and put in even more money at a time yet they have not been banned.

I wasn't even referring to the service in my post at all, But if I'm not banned and OP isn't banned then I doubt you were banned for the same thing.

The xbox account was only level 12 with like 3m from shark cards when the game was first released and when the cards first started working. Other than that its barely used. The social club accounts its now linked to is the brand new one I made for PC. Neither of the accounts have been cheated with except for that money lobby. Its just a risk people take.

Also just talked to my friend who was doing the same thing (Shooting money to people) and he got banned this morning.

I have a quick question concerning this. I understand hacking/cheating/ect is a bannable offense. But me and some friends got hit with someone shooting money a week ago. And the person on this thread saying they got banned. And after doing my research (Which I always do) They are banning people from being hit by these guys. So what that tells me is even if you are in a lobby with no way of knowing and all of a sudden a guy spawns near you and starts shooting the ground at your feet.. you can get banned. The hell is up with that?

Wewikk - November 1, 2015, 8:25 pm

I know I don't fit these requirements but iv'e been playing online games for 10 years and if anyone needs help or they were here first I let them have there money first

I never ask for money unless someone gave it to me or its a gift.

And if i play an mmo I always give people the stuff I don't need

But my social club name is Wewikk if you want to play plus I like joining the servers just to watch play fair and have a good time.

Thanks and I hope i can join you soon.

milkymyles - December 11, 2015, 3:32 pm

Just to clear up ppl getting banned, this has been my small little success when it comes to the money drops. Don't get over $100 million, don't bank recent ill gotten money, try to limit how much you get within a 10min time frame, don't tell everyone under the sun that you got hack $ as rock* likes to have snitches to sniff out ppl who do this, be careful with posting your social club id as rock* might be sniffing out these sort of forums. All the info I provided is from all the time I have been reading from forums and ppls experiences. But the $100mil i can speak from experience lol. Lastly be safe and buy all the stuff you want with your newly acquired wealth.
