I like the idea of people judging me based on my character and intelligence, rather than my age and grade. If somebody really cared, they could probably piece it together through my posts, but I hope that nobody bothers. One of the things I like about HF is that I can be myself here. Just me, without judgement. Nobody judging me based on my looks, or my skin colour, or my age, or my demographic, or any of those fickle things that don't really matter. I succeed or fail based on WHO I am, not WHAT I am. I know that's not what you were saying, but I just wanted somewhere to say this. I really like it here. (Sappy philosophical bullshit over.)

Ienaos - April 30, 2015, 9:20 pm

I'm still in the womb sir.

Jake Johnson - April 30, 2015, 9:20 pm
