Thread: For those contemplating "safe" hacking.

Bladee - May 1, 2015, 3:59 pm

Honestly, there are no extremely safe hacks out there. Unless you're paying some serious bank for them. If the hack you are using is undetected, or want to use, do some research on it, or buy an alt account and test it. Just ask people for help and opinions and learn shit.

I never hacked before trying iWebz and fucked up mad hard my first 2 days, but somehow survived the VAC banwave.

Tips?

Go with something you see a lot of people using and that's been undetected for awhile.

Interwebz is obviously down currently, I'd suggest looking into R3 if you're looking for free cheats. I've gone nearly 30 games with the legit settings. If you wanna rage, do 2 games and logout for 24 hours. If you use legit settings, learn to not look through the walls with ESP and try not to do anything suspicious. Make footstep callouts constantly and let your teammates know what's up. They'll benefit you more if you can give them intel vs. you insta-fucking the enemy with an assist. If you're using legit and want to stay VAC free, try not to play too many games a day and just play smart.

Another thing most cheats don't mention is using a USB for the mod. Make sure you ALWAYS are signed out of any Steam process and make sure it's closed. Plug in your USB, launch the cheat client and REMOVE your USB. The program should still run just fine. Start Steam, sign in, and play safe.

If you want help on R3's settings, I can help you considering i've been using them awhile.

If you're interested in another cheat/hack, ask about it. I'm sure another user has tested/used the cheat/hack and can give you knowledge.

This post is only to benefit those who are scared/iffy about trying anything and are constantly asking what's the "safest" cheat. There are no safe cheats, otherwise it wouldn't be an everyday issue. Hopefully, this'll help people out.

Correct me if i'm wrong on anything, because I'm sure I am.

Hope this helps!

Always 5 man premade, even if it's with you under idle accounts. I always 5 man with my IRL friends if i'm cheating.

My IRLs still think i'm just a god.

heh. My IRLs know I cheat and purposely play with me to be boosted. I haven't been overwatched ever (i'm not as blatant with my ESP, like, if i'm A RAMP on Dust 2, and I know there's 3 coming catwalk, I don't stare there, I look down at CT, turn to long etc. I only play Dust 2, too.

I just don't call out the enemy and don't stare through walls. I'll just like "rotate" like i'm finding a better position and play where the bomb plays mostly.

Pretty much. :)

I have no delay on my triggerbot, but somehow I'm not overwatch banned yet. If I still had my cheat I'd be running a legit boost service or whatever.

"USB Method" isn't good for all cheats, as on most externals l33t p2c it would cause VAC kicks. Its only useful if you want to protect loader, not cheat itself.

Mojo™ - May 1, 2015, 4:43 pm

The "usb method" does literally nothing to protect you. If VAC flags the cheat for a detection, it'll be 2~ weeks before you get banned and that's it. Security wise, it is all up to the developers on what they tell you to do, and what security they implement on their end.

PhoenixDoom - May 1, 2015, 4:43 pm

R3Cheats is internal, and the cheat doesn't run if it's not on a FAT32 drive. Some cheats just crash and burn if they're executed like this. It also streams the data from their servers iirc.

Doesn't matter, the cheat doesn't run if it isn't on a USB drive because they implemented that "security feature." If you do it correctly you should be able to keep your loader wherever you choose.

I think to R3Cheats USB == 100% more secure. I just created a FAT32 partition and it works, but i'm not using it on a non VAC banned account lmao

Bladee - May 1, 2015, 5:02 pm

Thanks for the comments guys.

Was actually unaware of the USB method not being effective.

Just assumed that's why it was removed.

Fagin - May 1, 2015, 5:10 pm

Of course It's effective though as it beats usn journaling 100%, does not need to be an usb. Just make sure files are not on your system partition which supports usn journaling (ntfs). There are other methods to beat usn journaling but that is one of the best.

Their loader, yes. They also have HWID resetting for some reason. Maybe because someone shares public forum accounts? ?

The cheat is streamed from their servers I believe.

I don't think Valve would want the loader. They want .dlls fed to them.

They've always been okay with detecting loaders. They used to bend yunosolutions over with loader detections every month vac takes whatever is easiest.

Oh god, the PremiumPaste buttbuddie is here spreading false information. Valve didn't detect loaders from the beginning. They were too afraid of false positives cockface. And VAC takes whats ENOUGH and has least chance causing false positives.

Never said they detected loaders from the beginning but I know they do now. 4real forgot to wipe French's cum out of his eyes before reading my post as usual

Can't wait until PremiumPaste gets cracked. To say the least, you have gathered loads of enemies.

borisganji1 - May 2, 2015, 6:39 am

The truth is that all providers know by day 1, that it's a matter of time before detection.

Gaben doesn't give two shits if your cheat is ring -47 or whatever, he has the money to make it happen.

As for loaders, I've been running injectors, cheat engine, ollydbg(even while hooked) on VAC protected servers without being banned.

My cheat even rewrites game functions, and I've not been banned yet.

Or you take the time and actually try and get good. I swear to jebus you kids will pay money to cheat at a game, why not just take the time and learn it? Quit ruining a great game, and actually try and learn it. Most of you would be 10x better by now if you just played legit.

I've been playing legit for a few days, and I suck. I can't improve. I'm too high of a rank and I can't derank either. None of my friends want to.

This is the worst excuse I have ever heard. That is the point of gaming. Play more, win and you gain rank. Then you learn more as you lose. You are just lazy and don't want to take the time to learn like the rest of us legit players.

Like, I'm used to having a box telling me where everyone is, a button to help me aim, etc.

I miss all my shots by a small amount, If I had a 3-5 FOV pSilent i'd be good.

I managed Nova Master while playing legit and that took 400 hours.

I just find this fairly enjoyable.

Sorry that it hurts your feelings, but your feelings aren't bothering me.

So, I'll keep having fun meanwhile, even if it means just using ESP or hardly any cheat.
