I've purchased a RDP from Madaz for 1 month, my VPS went down several times which made me pissed off.

1st time it went down pm'd user and he didn't get back until a couple days later since I spammed him on Skype and posted on his thread to get his attention. He created another login for me which forced me to lose all my files on the RDP he originally gave me.

Now my RDP went down again, pm'd the user a couple days ago he said he would get back, pm'd him a day later since he didn't reply and still got no response.

Pm'd him again on Skype today, probably ignoring me.
He sent a mass message to everyone.

Would suggest not dealing with him and purchasing his RDP's you'll get a shit ton of problems.

fgt ?

I wonder what made him sell such unreliable RDP's.

Seems like a legit scam report, good luck with this bro!

Also hope you get your money back.
