Thread: Dudes sending their credit cards?

Fr?sh - May 2, 2015, 10:03 pm

Why the hell do dudes do this? Some dude just sent me a picture of his credit card to use. I told him to put the card on a PayPal account, but he says he's too lazy.

What should I do?

Edit: I'm obviously not going to use his card lol

I'd recommend doing nothing.

If anyone has legal suggestions please say so.

Have a nice day! ?

Just wait until he is not busy and let him pay unless you wanna do something illegal and card.

You could set up a Paylvy, and have him buy a "donation" product via there, then just send him the pics(over skype or w/e)

Since you don't need a PayPal account to check out on a product.

You can use your card on Paylvy? Oh how much money I could've made :o

Or you can use his card illegally Kappa

Just get him to buy a giftcard himself on giftrocket.com don't buy anything yourself it could be a trap.

The payment method is still going to be PayPal though I believe.

Do not attempt using their card.

You will find yourself in jail faster than you can reply to this post.

Some guy did that to me too. NEVER use their credit card.

Either link them a Sellfy/Payivi link where they can use it or Amazon.
