Nice little lava effect. ?

Originality - May 3, 2015, 7:47 pm

The backing needs work. It looks like you only put a CC and a dirty screen on it.

It's hard to find a nice, texture to use tbh.

i tried a lava set, stone, and floral and just kept trying shit.

nothing went well with the CC I was using.

thanks for the opinion though man! helps me out.

please do me and yourself a favor and look past the generic youtube designer style, you'll be a lot better than them if you look ahead of that.

Yep agree with the first response, the actual center piece isn't too flush with the background, also that style is a bit over used. I would give it a 7/10 if you fixed the blending issue.

I've never fucked with Nitroblast and Glowing Edges and figured I'd do a few with this style, don't overly compensate and assume this is all I know. This is just to show what I've learned.

type59 - May 5, 2015, 10:59 am

I like the effect! Even its relaxing to look at it.

RealTalkPhoto - May 5, 2015, 6:14 pm

I like it, but I think you should add more texture to the background.

SirIlluzionz - May 7, 2015, 2:26 am

I Like It But It Needs A Better Background

people on this website make me laugh.

i've been doing this for nearly 7 years and gone to state competitions for this shit. looking at nationals next year.

obviously this is just messing with 3D Modeling and Glowing Edges.

I know the background is shit, because I didn't work on the background.

fuck the overly cliché flat style.

I just don't attempt to make money from this bc PayPal can't save chargebacks and i'm honestly not wanting to deal with disputes, bc that's 90% of what you're going to find.

thanks for helping me out though, I understand what you mean.

lemme know if you need anything in my inbox. ???
