Probably would of been appropriate to make this alert after you were sure. But I can understand your suspicion lol. Hopefully it isn't yours.

You spelled "thief" wrong. Also, why would you accuse someone of stealing your idea? I'm not saying he did not, but at least get some proof first.

Buy the ebook if you are that worried.

That would be the number one best method to see if he scammed you, although he probably didn't.

What do you have to go on to think he scammed you in the first place.

EDIT: disregard what I said.

Why would I pay the poor scrub $10 for my ebook that I wrote?
