Thread: Got hacked FTPs or cPannels?

Orgy - June 14, 2010, 9:24 pm

Need my shell uploaded to compromised servers.

Will pay $1 per shell, regardless of speed.

Each shell needs to be on a different server, and no free hosts.

Looking to spend a few hundred dollars on this.

Put your cPannels and FTPs to use!

PM me if you're interested

How much you want for your shells?

btw, Im not a competitor, I only do ddos on requests, I view it as more profitable to be honest.

I'm not selling shells, I'm buying them.

I offer PHP coding services. But most PHP UDP shells are the same.

Mmm i dont really care what kind they are coding wise, I just want a massive variety so I can mix and match for combinations until im satisfied that ive got a decent amount of sets to do rotational attacks on a per second rotation basis.

Does it matter if there injected into servers.

You know uploaded basically.

If I can access them from a URL, then its good to go. Not RFI's, however.

what are rfis? ive heard that term before, but ive seen it used in two different contexts.

Orgy - June 14, 2010, 10:07 pm

Remote File Inclusions. Basically you manipulate the script to load your own script from a remote location
