Thread: Bought Fortune Group - New Group coming!

eCoLoGy - May 14, 2015, 6:37 pm

Hey guys,

So basically I am the new owner of the Official group Fortune.
I've just bought it from PositiveEnergy.

I'm now stating some of the reasons why I decided to buy the group:
I have the money so why not? It's an investment!

I was a previous member of Fortune and I really hate the route it took and the way the Leaders guided it to the ruin. As everyone knows the group Fortune is being hated by many people and I don't blame anyone for that as I agree that the previous Leaders did lots of wrong things.

I was thinking of buying a group for quite long and even was going to enter Omni group selling with OMC's but I don't have lots of OMC's as other users so I gave up on it.

Saying that and seeing how the things were going bad for Fortune group I contacted PositiveEnergy to see if he was available to sell the group and so we got a deal!

I have lots of ideas for a group and no not the usual that almost every group does (sell buyins, creating products with the group name and blabla). I have a different mindset for how a group should run on HF!

About the group what I can tell you for now is this:
I will start it from ground 0.

I will rebrand the group (change the name, userbar, icon, everything!)

As I said I have my own idea of what a group should be and how I want to run it. And one of basics of this new group will be USER INTERACTION. In my view, the most important thing for a successful group is the way the users on it interact. I want a group where people are free to talk, a group where you don't have to be an expert in some area to get approved or a group where you can just join if you get invited for being a very reputable member. I want a group that every single user enjoys to stay, to talk, to laugh. Mainly a place where an user feels like his home.

For that, I'll be constantly providing for the group lots of games, chats, discussion topics, contests...

Well guys sorry for the long statments but for now that's it.
I'm already working on the userbar and so on and will keep you guys updated!

Hope you support me and the new group! ?

No, it will always be fortune and it will always BE FORTUNE

Justin Timberlake - May 14, 2015, 6:39 pm

I'm pretty sure beslim is the owner, not you. You bought leadership for 2k. Add in a couple extra grand and you could've bought a group instead of leadership.

No it won't.

When you buy a group you've to buy it from some other group that already exists.
That's what I did with Fortune.

I've nothing to do with it. ?

ZuGgY - May 14, 2015, 6:40 pm

Well, let's see how this turns out.

Congratulations on becoming the new owner.

NieR - May 14, 2015, 6:40 pm

Kind of.

But I've a contract with Beslim to become the owner in the following months.

You can ask him if you want and I'll ask him to post that here also. ?

Congrats on buying it.. you should uh.. lemme in? <3

Gary - May 14, 2015, 6:43 pm

So basically you're doing what PositiveEnergy is doing slowly paying him for leadership then Ownership lolok.

eCoLoGy - May 14, 2015, 6:44 pm

(May 14, 2015 06:40 PM)Auron Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) I thought beslim was the owner of Fortune, not Positive?

Yup Beslim was and is the owner (currently).

Positive was a Leader but had a contract with Beslim to become the Owner after paying a certain amount of money that he was paying every month.

Positive decided it was becoming an hard investment for him so I took his place and now I am paying Beslim. When the full ammount of our agreement is completed he will transfer the full Ownership to me.

As I said I've just bought the group and don't know what the old leader was about to do or not.

I'm starting a new group and the direction of it is something that I'm thinking of carefully.

Of course I've some ideas and as I explained in the main post I intend to make it mainly a group for interaction, for games, lots of talk.

A group without much limitations mainly.

The reason this doesn't work is because HQ marketing groups require one of two things. Either exclusiveness where only a handful of the best can join. Or you have people teaching others which is almost impossible because who wants to share the way they make money online? What are they getting out of it?

So people say a HQ marketing group, but only 1% of those people would actually be in the group lol.

PositiveEnergy had an agreement with Beslim to pay him a monthly fee of 600$ until he reached 8k USD and then Beslim would transfer the group to him.

But as Fortune was all fucked up without organization and full of shit, PositiveEnergy was having an hard time managing it so as I wanted to own a group I stepd in and took PositiveEnergy place.

Paid 2k USD to Positive Energy as it was the amount he had paid Beslim already during the last months.

And now I'm paying the monthly fee to Beslim of 1k until I reach the total amount we agreed that is 8k.

But as I already told him it won't be long as I can pay 2-3k month so I'll be given the full ownership in 2-3 months.

I'm now going to say something important and for now this is just an announcement thread that I created to give some news to you guys about the group but I'll make sure to post what I'm going to say now in the official threads also, as soon as I create them.

So here it is:

I see lots of groups that do that things of "calls, like they create a post asking for the users to say some bullshit in the next 5 days and the users who miss it get kicked out.

I'm fully against this practice and I guarantee all of you that in my group this kind of thing won't exist, ever!

In my group, if you join it you'll never be kicked out (unless you do some stupid thing like being racist or insult other members for example).

I won't mind if you for example join the group and you go for another country to work like for 1 year and then come back to HF. Your position in the group will remain.

Just wanted to make this clear.

Of course it won't be straight like that. I'll have some rules to have everything organize.
As I said this are just some ideas I'm building up in my head.

Some rules I am thinking of to apply in the things I stated above are for example:

You have to be absent from HF for 1 year. I'm ok with that to not kick you from the group but you must first send me a PM explaining your reasons to go absent.

Other rule will be for example in the recruitment if you say you want to join the group to be discussing the Movies section for example. I'll keep monitoring random users activity for 3 to 3 months or 2 months to 2 months, dont know yet. So lets say you joined the group with the reason of participate in the Movies section and after 3 months I check your activity and don't see a single post from you in the section.

If this happens, I won't kick you immediatly. I will first contact you via PM to understand why you are not being any active. If no valid reason is provided so I kick you.

Just to make sure you understand this only applys for recruitments.

As I said before I won't be having buy-ins in the first months or year. In the future, if I have buy-ins these rules won't apply as I think if a user pays to be in the group then he has no reason to be kicked out as there are many users that wants to be in the group just to wear the userbar.

I think this is the most correct behavior but as I said and I repeat this are just some ideas I'm building in my head for now. ?

i would really advise against that considering i saw what happened to polymath lmfao max 150 members honestly, anything above that will just turn into spam

Tommy - May 17, 2015, 4:54 am

The userbar doesn't look too bad tbh, It's just something different to the userbars we've seen in the past. If you like it keep it lmfao.

Billie Joe Armstrong - May 17, 2015, 5:07 am

Yeah, a new group! I hope it's gonna be HQ.

Mutes - May 17, 2015, 5:39 am

I actually read in the group memberships area, and on this thread info about the group.

It's unique. I like it. Recently groups have been so unoriginal.

I like how it's just basically be friends. Talk and communicate, but be respected/ful.

Cool. I'd like to be part of it.

When are you starting recruitment/adding members?

SIM-2005107 - May 17, 2015, 5:40 am

Sounds great, wish you all the best with the group.

I could have sworn I heard something, oh well it must have been the wind.

eCoLoGy - May 17, 2015, 7:33 am

Hey guys,

Stay on topic please :S

Also the discussion about the userbar, it's just normal some people like some others doesn't.

And I can take criticism without starting a fight so I'm ok with it.

After using the userbar here on HF it made me feel strange also but I kinda like it and as many of you said, it's unique and different from other groups.

Anyway the discussion about the userbar and such just gave me an idea for a different userbar but it's just an idea and I don't intend to change this one if the new idea I had comes up pretty good.

My idea for a different userbar would be a pirate ship in the middle, with some water on the sides.

If you guys feel like doing one like that and it comes up to be amazing, I'm more than ok to pay for it.

Also I'll be starting some topics later at night. ?

Grim - May 17, 2015, 7:56 am

Userbar looks very unique. Can't wait to see the direction you take the group in ?

Happeh - May 17, 2015, 11:14 am

I like the userbar, its different and unique. A userbar doesn't always have to be this mysterious and multi-layered-meaning-behind it thing.

For reference, "ground zero" refers to the point on the Earth's surface closest to a detonation. It could make sense I suppose if you meant the group is going to explode but otherwise "starting the group from the ground up" would make more sense. Or "Starting the group from scratch."

eCoLoGy - May 17, 2015, 5:54 pm

Hi guys,

Just got home after a weekend with my girl.
5 years on this relationship and got this HF group. Can't think of a better weekend ?

So about the userbar: As many of you said, it has to be something that I like. Personally and I must admit I loved it when I saw it in the fullsize for the logo but now, after getting it on HF and using it for a while, it feels a little weird.

Is not bad of course and I like it but I have this strange feeling...

As you also know, I've opened a contest in the GFX section to see new ideas I could get for userbars and some people already submitted some good ones.

Actually, one of my ideas for the contest was a userbar with a ship in the middle and some water on the sides and I received a PM from one guy with a pretty cool one but I asked him to do some other changes on it just to see extra ideas on it.

So I'm still receiving those ideas and as soon as I get enough, I'll open a thread with all of the submissions so all of you guys can appreciate them and give your opinions.

In my view, my opinion matters a lot of course as the owner of the group but I also think that it's really important to hear everyone opinions and that's what I'm going to do about the userbar.

For now I'll stick with the actual one and start making some threads for recruitment and so on.

Juicy - May 17, 2015, 5:55 pm

I went out and played a little golf today, and got to see a few buds I haven't seen in awhile this weekend. It's been a great one.

Anyways, very excited to see what you decide to do with the UB. Personally I love it, but I understand you want the entire community to aswell.

LessThan3 - May 17, 2015, 11:49 pm

The userbar looks terrible. Two images slapped on top of one another is a poor effort.

Aside from that, why can no one just outright buy this group? Twice now people have started "paying towards ownership". Just means beslim makes more money.

Good luck with the group (if you even own it that is).

I wouldn't be comfortable with joining a group that isn't outright owned by someone, leaves too much room for drama.

Should just keep the current userbar. Idk why you want to spend $300+ on another userbar which is most likely going to get hate aswell.

Contact Novica for a proper userbar.

The only problem is that he has a broken HDD and when he get's $200 he can get back to designing good shit.

That's something I'm still thinking about.

I said in a previous post that I won't have buyins for the time being as I want first to make sure the group is worth having those.

But I'm thinking in a second chance: we all know there are many users that just want to be part of a group to be able to use the userbars so they seem fancy.

I understand that. And what I'm thinking is to do something just like the group Instinct is doing: if the user doesn't want to have the trouble of doing the recruitment steps and get approved or not, instead he can opt for buyin.

But it's something I'll have a little more think about.
