This kid stole my entire project , slapped a new name on it and resold it here on HF.

He's also claiming I'm spreading virus's which I'm not!

The only reason it gives detections is because of the obfuscation that comes with ubot.

Don't beleive me? Try it for yourself , make a new program with ubot , compile it and scan it , it will give detections , even with no code.

More sources pointing to ubots false detections

This creature that's getting his little friends to bash me for him is a disgusting creatin , he's trying to get me banned for false reasons so he can continue to sell MY product.

He claims I am sales trashing , which I'm not , why in hell would I sales trash if I'm giving it away for free in the first place?

Anyways , regarding the detections , I can provide the program to anyone who specializes in malware analysis , to prove my innocence.

Regarding the rest of his thread.

My product was being sold months before his on other forums which I can provide sources + proof to administrators if they wish to view it , I will not name other forums here.

Our products are identical , his having less features since I updated the code a lot.

I have gladly provided the FULL source to the project , without even being requested to do so , simply copy pasting the code into ubot would prove it's functioning correctly and NOT backdoored.

The full source can be found right here - <http://pastebin.com/mVg9UQwG>

All he is doing now is slandering my name so his posssy can gang rep me , simply because I'm not upgraded , which is totally unfair.

Let's get this straight , first he steals my project , then he resells it , then he slanders my name and reputation making me look like some sort of monster which is completely ridiculous , he claims I spread malware yet he's using the free cracked version of ubot which in itself is backdoored by pseudobit , infecting his customers and finally , trying to get me banned for no apparent reason , other than the fact that ubots obfuscation methods give off detections.

It's not like this is the only program out there that gives false detections , infact , if he were to make a new program with ubot and upload it to virus total it would give detections.

Anyways , I'm rambling.

Just because this guys an uber doesn't mean he can just push me around , hopefully something gets done about him.

If anyone has any suggestions or any questions feel free to ask me.
