Amount: $80

Summary; I ran the Nightfall Generator for PositiveEnergy for his line of Nightfall Products, we agreed on weekly payments. The first payment went fine and I earned my $20 easily, soon after he starting become more of a dick. For example any payment issues with the generator I got PMs about. I would forward them to him and he would get mad at me, like jeez mate I'm sorry for caring about customers more than the money from this generator. Never did he once update the accounts when I asked. Pathetic excuse for a human.

Proof;

First screenshot is of me remind him about my payment.

Second screenshot is of me forwarding information about payments which he ignored. This isn't the first time.

 $80/20 = 4$. Their deal is at least 4 weeks old.

Edit: Also taking into consideration of the date of creation of this thread (the product/service in question of this deal dispute), you can clearly see that the deal started before all the scam reports on PE.

I'd like to know where the $80 came from?

I can check the sales logs and give you the exact amount im assuming it's around 20-30 for your 10%. In my opinion you don't deserve a penny. When you purchased the last sticky I paid for 3 weeks and got 1 and the other $60 went missing. You most likely won't be seeing a penny from me

I dont owe you an additional $63 I am willing to prove anyone I owe you $17. Where do you get the $80 from if you didnt have a mod acct on the site?

I am willing to skype screenshare as stated in previous posts. You still haven't stated where the $80 came from to begin with?

Total sales = 37

You have been paid for 20 of them that leaves 17

I can't accept the incoming call for some reason.

He sends me a picture on Skype of a negative balance but on his computer he's in a positive balance
