add both their usernames & UID's in title.

Good job making this, hopefully you keep it updated, not so sure about the second one on a "spree" since it's only 2 reports.

Awesome how you totally neglect to mention the $325 scam report. Were you just hoping to gloss over that one? Ironical that someone who clearly can't handle money is(was?) the leader of a monetizing group.

I don't think 2 scam reports is a "Scamming spree" lets say my generator has some hosting issues and I get 2 reports? does that mean I am on a scamming spree?

Besides that how can you confirm this :

It may not be a scamming spree, but this thread is to help people not get scammed. I like to expose the users who are scamming and put them on here. If the person with 2 reposts get their stuff resolved I'll remove it.

And the thing about how their is no dispute posted, para made a post on this dispute thread I linked above that sentence stating that he was scammed and provided proof.

I told him to make his own thread, and I don't think he has yet.

Resolved or not, he still scammed a few people regardless, that's like saying after a dispute is resolved you should remove the thread.

I get that, but my dispute was pretty mild compared to the others. I'm not interested in getting invested into business that doesn't involve me. Just putting it out there that I resolved my dispute with him without problem. People can take that as they will.
