Thread: [Scammed for \$50 Paypal by G-Eazzy \[uid:2650616\]](#)

Grizzlies - May 18, 2015, 5:08 am

This thread will be updated with more detailed information if the user is not willing to pay back my $50.

Please do not deal with this user until then.

Refer to my thread about this. Talking to him on Skype, he's trying to resolve this. If you lose the PP dispute, he said he will refund you in BTC.

Circular_temp - May 18, 2015, 6:52 am

Maybe this'll help. That post was by me, I legitimately have talked to G-Eazzy on Skype about this.

Purist - May 18, 2015, 7:06 am

G-Eazy is a good guy.

He'll get this resolved.

Apple J4ck. - May 18, 2015, 7:07 am

I actually exchanged about 130$ Paypal for his bitcoin yesterday, went smooth.

Please use the following template to post a scam report :

- 1- Link to the assumed scammer's profile and maybe sales thread.
- 2- Story
- 3- Proofs, in english if possible.

Here, I just see a Paypal screenshot, in a language I don't even understand. Invalid.

Eddie - May 18, 2015, 9:23 am

He also C/B on me but I'm giving him until Tuesday to resolve it or I will also open a scam report.

Yeah, I WOULD be refunding in BTC, except for ONE thing. If you win the chargeback, then you pretty much just got free BTC.

So I'm going to be calling today with Circular. If ALL fails, the worst case scenario is that you're going to wait until the chargeback is decided. If you win, you keep the money. If you lose, I will refund you 100% in BTC.

Hope that makes sense. They were chargedback automatically and my PayPal is limited, so calling is really all I can do.

Check the thread, it's me. Why would I be posting on a scam report if I wasn't me?

G, don't message me on Skype right now, that's not me - Skype totally compromised. Would have to be an alternative method (ie Google Voice)

Also you're missing some curtial things, that you need to add for this to be considered a valid scam report.

But after reading over the comments, I can't really determine if this is valid or not, considering the fact you only provided a screenshot of the chargeback page, how do we even know that's g-eazy charging back?

charging back?

lol it chargedback automatically. I literally can't touch any of the chargebacks. It's all handled by PayPal.

I'm going to need to talk to thebuyers soon to tell them what to do

.... In 2007 this happened to me.

Sold an item for $600

Bought $600 item

Person charged back on me, so it charged back on the person I bought from.

G-eazy makes sense here. He can call and ask to lose the chargeback to make it faster

If a person chargesback, paypal traces the money, otherwise they are on the hook for it.

Kinguin - May 18, 2015, 12:37 pm

Maybe because he have sold services to some people that have been scamming others.

Call paypal, ask them to cancel the chargeback, then refund OP. Problem solved.

He is on the hook for the amount he got scammed for, they might refuse. Having his account in the negative means paypal has lost that money .
