Realizm - May 31, 2015, 11:01 pm

Welcome to Titans fifth recruitment!

Titans is small friendly community that likes to have fun. We have discussions, game together, get to know one another, and host the occasional event. For this recruitment, we will be recruiting members who want to truly participate and be active within the group for our next event. If you are just looking for a flashy new userbar to wear, then you might as well leave this thread now.

Frequently Asked Questions

Can I send my application privately?

No. We used to allow this but we have decided against this. Any applications sent will be ignored.

What should I do after applying?

Nothing. If you haven't gotten a reply on the thread or in a private message than you do not need to answer any questions and you did not make it. Feel free to try again next recruitment.

Can I buy into Titans?

No. We do not sell memberspots or leaderspots.

Does becoming your friend help me get into Titans?

Absolutely not. I get tons of people messaging me, hanging out with me, etc. These people are very nice and I get along with most of you, but this does not help you get into Titans.

When will you begin to look over applications and accept members?

One week after the recruitment has been open is when we start making decisions. On special occasions we will invite one or two members before that.

When will this recruitment be closed?

We will close the recruitment no earlier than June 7th. An exact date is not set on when recruitment will end.

Zexo - May 31, 2015, 11:02 pm

Saving this spot for later ;) good luck to all that apply.

Ventures - May 31, 2015, 11:04 pm

Titans is a great group. Looking forward to seeing some applications.

Zayzo - May 31, 2015, 11:06 pm

Why are you applying?

I am applying to Titans, because I feel like I can help Titans with my field of expertise, as well as this group seems intelligible, and unique. I would like to enjoy these unique traits of a group now-a-days, and be a part of this community.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4792317>
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4741771>

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should expect, help desks, questions answered, active threads/me helping members with anything Forensics related. OPSEC (being anonymous), Doxing/De-Tracing. Also, some pentesting questions i can help users with, although minimal.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I feel you can't compare me to other users who don't have knowledge on Forensics, as you should accept different people for different reasons. However, I can help with forensics as I stated above, help desks what ever you guys need from me. I am active, I also enjoy meeting new people, and helping users out. I will do my best to help, and represent Titans in a postive way.

Anything else?

I hope to receive a PM from you and I look forward to talking.

Tyler The Creator. - May 31, 2015, 11:07 pm

Why are you applying?

Because I've seen this group around and I've always wanted to be in a group where knowledge is expand upon and so I'd love to learn and be part of everything this group has to offer.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Upgraded members

Helped several members with removal of malware.

What should Titans expect from you?

A member which is willing to contribute everything he has to the group and anything he can, expect me to be very active and very helpful.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Well I'm not like everyone I'm always looking for a conversation with someone and always looking to help those who have problems always trying to do the best I can in anything.

Anything else?

Yes I'd like to say if I do get chosen to part of this group expect nothing but full contribution from me. [/color]

prada ? - May 31, 2015, 11:12 pm

Good luck everyone. You'll love the group if you get in.

Spend some time and effort on your app- we like unique and outgoing people.

Nullware - May 31, 2015, 11:16 pm

Why are you applying?

I'm looking to be apart of a group that enjoys helping and sharing knowledge between each other. I strive to make myself and others better.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Donating For Multiple Users

Giveaways Example: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4842273>

What should Titans expect from you?

Quality service and posts. I'm a pure entrepreneur and strive to make nothing but the best services and products. You can expect me to be in all events and help contribute to the group. You can as well expect an active and up bright attitude.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I'm not just some normal business guy on HF. I'm a really fun guy to speak with, and enjoy debating on subjects. I as well do Home-Schooling so I'm available for all events and chats at least 9 hours a day.

Anything else?

I'd just like to state that I'd be more than honored to join this group, and whatever choice is made I'll still respect this group, and love to watch it grow. I'd also like to advise you that my reputation has been rep-fucked and I was originally at 200, and plan to be back up there in the following months.

G???????f????s? - May 31, 2015, 11:19 pm

Why are you applying? I was in Titans once, I was kicked because of inactivity. I want back in because I want to be part of the projects. I want to feel like I have a use here on HF. I want to feel like I'm needed somewhere.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Community Alert I'm always making community alerts on users I see as sketchy or admit to something.

I help a ton in the Computing tab and COCH section.

What should Titans expect from you? Activity. Unlike last time, I will work my ass off, creating projects and ideas left and right and rolling them out officially or unofficially. And I would strive to help people in the name of both myself and Titans. I'd teach what skills I have to both members of the group and of HF.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants? I'm not anything special. I know that. But what I am, is a hardworking individual who is motivated to do things for the good of a group of people as awesome as Titans and the people who are in it.

Anything else? I don't expect to be picked. I don't expect to be chosen. I don't expect to be given a second chance. But I hope I get that chance. I hope that Realizm is as much my bae as he says he is and will hook me up with an invite. <3

Ta-kun - May 31, 2015, 11:29 pm

Why are you applying?

Well I am applying because I what the group is about and beleive that I'd fit right in!

I enjoy gaming, even though I may not have as many hours logged as you guys, or even be as good!

I love to learn and hope that by joining this group that I can learn a thing or two.

List two contributions you've made to Hack Forums:

- I'm very active in the iOS and iDevices sub forum. I love anything Apple and love to help members that are having problems or would just like some advice!
- I've helped countless members with any problems they need!

What should Titans expect from you?

They should expect someone who is smart, funny, like-able, and extremely well rounded. I've never had any bad blood with anyone on Hack Forums so drama shouldn't be a worry!

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I think I should be picked over members for a few reasons. I don't tend to be a problem for anyone and I'm not just looking to join for the hell of it. I'm an extremely like-able and love to game!

Anything else?

Thanks for the opportunity to submit an application, I hope that I get accepted and good luck to all who apply!

JDCL - May 31, 2015, 11:30 pm

Why are you applying?

I Feel like this group is a family. I would love to become close with the members of this group. I don't really have very many close friends so it would be nice to change that.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Help to users all around the forum (Hence why i'm in Archive)

I've bought Upgrades for many members as-well as gifted quite a few awards (Rich bitch, gift, etc)

What should Titans expect from you?

High quality posts, Comradery, and a positive attitude!

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Take the other applicants into consideration before me. If i don't get in the group, then they are better off in the group than me ?.

Anything else?

I've missed a few of these recruitment's so here is my big chance!

Dickface - May 31, 2015, 11:31 pm

Why are you applying?

I'm applying because I want to be a part of this community as I feel its one of the better ones to be a part of.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4840478> I've made this tutorial and I plan to make many more.

I've also helped out other people in their threads, and I will continue to do so.

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should expect the best from me, as thats what I strive to do. Whether it be in schoolwork/on HF/or in my daily life as a person. I strive to do my best at what ever I'm doing.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

There isn't much of a reason why I should be picked over other applicants, There's probably someone that could do the same thing as me, But I also feel I should be picked because I have a different perspective on everything. I can learn a lot from this and I could teach a lot. Other people won't have the same personality as me or the same type of thinking.

Anything else?

I can't think of anything else to add at this current time.

AltKev - May 31, 2015, 11:32 pm

Klown's Application

Why are you applying?

I am applying to Titans because I see them as a well respected and knowledgeable group. They hold a sense of prosperity, a trait many of the group here lack or have lost over the years. The leaders are not morons, they have goals and aim to help the community and Hf as a whole. I would enjoy being apart of the Titan community, meeting the members and helping the group continue to strive.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.Upgraded One Member from Normal>L33t Coded a Vb.NET Shell Checker and Released the Source Free

What should Titans expect from you?

They should expect me to maintain activity within the subforum, as well as the Hf SF's as well. I should always keep a mature, polite tone when replying to users, which is something I admit I need to work on, but I can make it happen. Along with aiding in the contributions the Titans give to Hf, I should be expected to complete whatever task I am assigned, on time, and of quality.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I'm hard working, devoted for excellence and achievement, and am always eager to learn new things. I do see myself being a beneficiary asset to the Titans, as if I am accepted the group will help me apply myself to projects and tasks more efficiently. I think the Titans can help me grow as a person, as well as me contributing to the group in any way, shape, or form.

Anything else?

I enjoy my time on Hf, and am looking for a usergroup with not many members to socialize and interact with. I'm sure I have many common interests with a lot of the members, and I would love the opportunity to meet the Titans members and share our hobbies or similarities.

Titans Recruitment

By Ego

Why are you applying?

I was previously in the group, however I was removed due to inactivity. Reason behind this was that I was moving countries and I was getting settled. Im now active again. Titans was a grest group and

I actually collaborated with people extremely well, thinking and developing projects and such. Good atmosphere within the group and it would be great to be apart of that again.

Ideas, Ideas, Ideas. I like to come up with events to run within the community. Im also rather creative so Im sure I can produce some great content in the name of the group. Content to be produced: YouTube Channel - Gaming Content/Uploads

Host tournaments and challenges for the community

Podcasts/Vlogs/Etc

And more ideas to come

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Really, generic answers will come here. Im not saying you should pick me over the next applicant. But my work ethic and creative mindset Im sure can be of great use to Titans. If you do pick me, I wont be a bad pick what so ever.

Anything else?

Thanks for reading I suppose. Good luck to other applicants.

What should Titans expect from you?

<https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Zy4uiiy0qgA>

In all seriousness, you should expect just an all in general nice guy, a good conversation and active contributions to any lounge / group chat / thread. I'm always down to help a brother out too, keep that in mind :)!

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Although I'm sure my answer will be the same as the next applicants, if I am chosen I will try hard to pull my weight. I'm a great people person, very flexible with my social standing (I'm good at being friends with all types of people.) I'm full of wisdom and maturity so I'm a great go-to for irl issues and what-not. I'm always eager to learn, and am efficient at learning quickly(erest?) I have a large steam library and I'm always down to play a game or 21 with you all.

Anything else?

I have a service or two that I shall be bringing out in the (hopefully) near future - it might be neat that Titans are being represented under it.

Besides that, Star Wars is the shit, and nobody calls Han Solo a bitch. Thanks for reading!

The Banished Prince - May 31, 2015, 11:42 pm

Why are you applying?

Titans has always appealed to me as a group of closeness. Everyone is fond of each other and communicate and work well together. Titans is also one of the few groups on HF that live up to their HQ status. Titans has no one specified reason, it is a broad group that is dedicated to having a good time and can be serious at the same time. Titans also is a group with great potential, with a future of becoming one of the better groups that have been on HF. I want to have the opportunity to be apart and help Titan's journey to the top.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.I've donated to HF and upgraded a few members

Help with any projects, both group and individual

What should Titans expect from you?

You could expect my total devotion towards benefiting the group in any way I can. Post in a high quality manner and be active. My respect to every member and feedback about group choices and making it better when needed.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I feel you should choose me because I'm a relaxed person that doesn't like to cause drama or attract unwanted attention. I like helping others in any way I can. I'm an honest person and try to always keep a positive attitude.

Anything else?

I'm 16, turning 17 in two weeks, and currently unemployed. I like to spend my days playing video games, spending time with my friends, and exercising. I enjoy gambling btc every once in a while. Also want to thank Realizm for giving everyone a chance to apply towards this great group. Good luck to everyone who applies?

Why are you applying?

I am applying to the titans because I believe it is a well organized and successful group they have contributed to the forums with there events which I participated in. During my time of participating I thought it was great well organized,fun,creative,and thoughtful. The have gave back many things after there events such as upgrades and what not.

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should accept me because I am active and want to be there to help,contribute, and support all things involving the group. I want to offer help in the skills I know. I want to contribute to all Titans giveaways,contests,events,e.t.c. I would like to be rooting for and helping anything Titans has to offer.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

You should pick me because I have skills in fields that everyone does not have knowledge in. Such as networking everyone does not know how to troubleshoot networking problems but I do and I can provide help to others that experience problems and then they will be like "one time a titans member help me fix my router they have great members". Another thing is JTAGS and RGHS I know a lot about these modified consoles because I have been dealing with them for about 3 years and can offer help and support. As you can see by my post activity I am currently already active in both these sections providing help and support for peoples issue

Honestly, only thing i see myself beyond other applicants is trust Ive done 300-600$ Middle Man Deals i get a lot of message to middle man for them i do it without fail! "on my thread proof"

Anything else?

I would be a very good asset to titans if you accept me you should expect my all you would not regret it!

Lirik - June 1, 2015, 12:23 am

Why are you applying?

I am applying for this group today because i want to be apart of something bigger than the counterstrike section! i also want to meet some chill people who want to game and hang out on friday night, ya feel me? Also nothings fun if you are doing it alone so having someone to chill and queue up with would be sweet. I also appreciate have intellectual conversations with people who are down to Earth and have the same chill laid back philosophy that i have!

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.

Well i dont have fancy threads or 400 commented on post but so far on my short but exciting trip on HF I have:

Supplied the community with legit but cheap CSGO accounts at the same time helped a few users new to the game learn the basics.

Also i have supplied some deep and quite intellectual comments on some threads that i no have made people really think and at the same time laugh, thats the big thing i aim for... Making people laugh and enjoy life!!

EDIT: Well i would link you two threads but can you really judge a person off two posts? or even ten? I think my words speak louder than how i have responded to some members on this forums. Frankly some of the thing I have said may not have been the nicest but if you actually take the time to read some of the narcissitic/hateful threads that are posted on here you would understand that not everyone deserves you to be nice but instead straight up. Sorry for the tangent but all in all I feel like there are no two posts i can link you that can truly attest to my character over time.

What should Titans expect from you?

To be extremely(sometimes unusually) active in the subforum. Also you can expect me to attempt to get some people to come try out my favorite game CSGO and maybe host a server where we can get in TS and chill and playing a private server:P. Also Titans can expect some deep comments and funny-ass comments.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I believe i have more to offer than other applicants solely based on the range that i can go from when commenting on others/making threads. I can go from nerd CS talk to talks about the meaning life and why we are really here realll quick.

Anything else?

Just hope you consider the above and hope that me not making huge threads a make or break!
And try to understand from an outsiders perspective that isnt really that rich i can link all of the giveaways and such that everyone else is linking/promising:)

Funtage - June 1, 2015, 1:38 am

Why are you applying?

Titans appears to be a tight-knit community which is something I appreciate - group doesn't solely exist to monetize its existence, and actually constructs activities that members outside of the group can involve themselves with.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Over the 5 years that I've been on this forum, my wealth of knowledge has increased exponentially.

One of the things I am most proud of is learning how to monetize online traffic, and as such I wanted to teach the forum how to do the same.

As result, I have made threads detailing how to improve monetizing setups (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4453786>, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4498948>, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4399686>, <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4378098>) and I have answered many questions via both Private Messages and my CPA/Monetizing helpdesk with over 200 replies (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4544562>).

I have also performed BTC giveaways -> <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4497268>

And additionally have upgraded members with awards/user upgrades/cash -> <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4541839>

What should Titans expect from you?

Commitment to achieve and reach visions set, as well as my knowledge concerning online advertising. I've never minded helping members within groups I've been involved with to improve their lives financially, and as such I'd be willing to do the same for Titans as well.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I feel to say that anyone should be picked over another is unfair as each individual values certain traits and beliefs differently to another. However, as far as this forum is concerned - I have been here for over 5 years now and have shown my commitment to the site. My interest has peaked here in the last year or two, and as such I have found myself getting AND wanting to become more involved with members and groups on the site more and more.

Why are you applying?

Titans seems like a awesome group to be in and i would like to join the group and Help the group with my area of expertise. since the day i join HF, I have been sharing my knowledge with other members in this community with my area of expertise, which is Ratting and Graphics designing, and also host some contests. I have helped other members out with setting up Rats, I have over 100+ posts in my Free RAT Help Desk and helped out over 50+ members. besides RAT Help Desk, often then I spend most of my time in GFX section, helping out members who are in need of GFX, Helping members with free gfx requests in Free gfx request section, you can see that in my post count and rep. Now its been 2 years on HF and in Within this 2 years I have hosted many contests you can see those contests in Contribution tab. so i would like to be in the group that i have never been before and contribute as i can. This is why im applying Titans, share my Knowledge with other members in the group. Help each others out. to Have Fun :)

Happeh - June 1, 2015, 6:34 am

Why are you applying?

Titans looks like a nice and friendly group with some of my own close friends being in there. The ideal of not selling membership spots means it won't turn into a shit-posting fest and I know you Realizm in that I'm sure only the best members will get in here that deserve it.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. animeFAN! AnimeFAN! was originally my group before I allowed Tweety to use the name - it was originally made to boost the activity in Anime Adventures but it has gone on to do more than that. Even now you see old members wearing [animeFAN!] in their username. We used to hold many competitions and just revitalized AA. It is one of my proudest creations on HF. (Shout out to Taiga who was also an owner when it was first found) Rabbit Doubt I've also hosted many little fun games on the forum which have always proved sucessful. These received incredible praise and take a long time to set-up but I'd be willing to do this again for Titans just so we can have some fun in the forum. I've also hosted competitions in my time here but I'd thought I'd pick some which may stand out compared to the usual "giving $10's away".

What should Titans expect from you?

I hope to be able to share my knowledge I've learned in my lifetime so far - I'm currently a Media student so one of my biggest strong points is film, TV etc. I know things such as when a film was made can be easily Googled but I can help in other areas such as film theory and the practical side such as controlling a camera. I'm also taking Photography as a part of my course so can help in this area too. All of this is a little niche but it is where my strong point is in life.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Other than above; I'm just a chill, friendly guy who's looking to get into a friendly group. I can help across many areas and have experience selling, leading, writing and obviously in the creative industry so can help across many areas. Hopefully I don't sound too egotistical haha.

Anything else?

Thank you for reading.

I don't drop HQ tutorials every day, but I'm motivated to the least, summer is coming up and I want to put my foot forward into doing something whether it be learning something or utilizing the skills I have now towards the Titan's benefit, the opportunities are endless when you look at it, I have 3 full months to do something, so expect good things.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Well I'm not your perfect person, but I consider myself someone who respects others and understands what is right and wrong, what I mean by this is I don't act crazy nor do I act perfect, I am who I am and you should accept me for that, being a previous member I think I did something right when I was accepted and I've really put thought into this application, even though it isn't 10 paragraphs explaining how I'm the best, I would like to think of myself as a fun person to be around and spend time with.

The Dragon of the West - June 1, 2015, 7:42 am

Why are you applying?
I'm looking for something that is not common and tends to be rare in a group...And Titans seems to deliver just that something. Titans has a small group member base which can be bad or good but it tends to be beneficial in this case mostly because every member I have seen in Titans looks like they belong there and have a purpose, not just a member that wears a user bar for example. Not to mention you all look like your a tight group of fiends and have a good time weather that be while having fun doing your gambling and what not ? or taking a serious approach on things like the recruitment. I find all these things very appealing because most groups are either a lounge group dedicated to having fun and tend to not take a serious approach on hardly anything, and some groups tend to not have fun while being way to serious. While titans has a certain middle ground where they are serious when there is a need for it and can have fun...There is a great amount of maturity in this group for sure, and that appeals to me greatly. All in all, I would like to be apart of something like this because it is a rare thing among the groups of HF In my opinion.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.

I have donated a bit of money towards HF because I wanted to give back to the forum I have spent a great deal of my time on.

I have upgraded four members to L33t and one member to Ub3r.

I have helped people with cracking league accounts and how to do it successfully

I have recommenced this site to many people and some have become pretty successful.

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should expect many things from me which I believe to be:

Be active and post Quality threads, and posts without causing drama.

Help with group projects.

And try to make titans keep the image that it has. (^ My image of the group^)

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I have became very dedicated to being active and having some fun on the forum in the last few months and don't plan to stop anytime soon. I also am a trustworthy person and try and keep a positive outlook when things tend to be getting bad.

Anything else?

I like to play video games and browse HF in my free time, I have a job working at a local grocery store that I enjoy because it takes some of the time that I waste on donig nothing and turns it into some cash. I don't plan to get a diffrent job yet because I'm only 17 and don't plan to settle on a career just yet until after college.

All in all, I feel I'm just an average Joe...Not really a huge money maker or anything even though I have done many deals on HF but not lately, If that is what matters which I hope not, Thanks for allowing the opportunity to apply.

I hope for the best to the other applicants.

Gladly - June 1, 2015, 7:44 am

What should Titans expect from you?

Loyalty, friendship. Also I would be very active in the subforum. Not just in the subforum, sharing my knowledge with everyone and doing it with the Titan userbar which makes users respect the group even more and the Titan group will grow and get even more potential. If I do any services in the further I would be happy to do them in the name of Titan. Anything really. I can do graphics for free for Titan members even through I already got a service for everyone. I can spread the word of the group. Anything and everything, say something and I will probably do it.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I'm active. I'm nice. I don't really see the point of "why you should pick me over other applicants", if only a few got in there wouldn't be such a big community in the group. If you're not looking for friendly users you shouldn't pick me. I'm trying to be as nice as possible to everyone. No matter where you are from, which group you are in or if you are upgraded or not. I will respect everyone and be nice to everyone. I got basic knowledge in almost everything and the things I do not have any knowledge in I would like to expand my knowledge. I got knowledge in everything from Training, food, RATs, graphics, gaming and so on.

What should Titans expect from you?

Starting about 2 months ago I've been very active, I'm online at least 2-3 hours every day. I always try to do giveaways to members and help others, whether I'm giving someone money on PayPal or mm a deal. Titans should expect me to be active and helpful. Whenever I'm home on HF members can always message me or talk to me about anything. Even when I'm not home, I'm always on my phone checking HF. And not only that but I'm a very trusted member. I have no scam reports and have 50+ successful currency exchanges. I dedicate myself to be the best HF member I can be and to give others a hand when they need it.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Why are you applying?

I've been looking for a group of gamer's for quite some time, people who have a passion for competitive gaming just as I do. Also looking to meet new people to play with, make new friends, and learn off others. Since exams are also nearly finished, need something to fill up my spare time, this seems like the perfect thing to apply for. Trust me, I'll have a lot of spare time lol.

A lad from Manchester, that's looking to find some more people to play with on CSGO. Friendly, out-going and one horny ass person. Although I'm not so active now, which is due to preparing for exams and the exams itself, after the exams have finished I'll be looking to game for most of summer.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

There is none, however if you're looking to build up a friendly group of people that enjoy gaming like myself, I hope to be able to join such a group.

That, and members seem to be reserving application spots, but as members have said, what page your application is on does not change anything. And you have at least a week to apply, probably more. Also guys, if you aren't happy with your application you're free to go back and edit and change it however you like at anytime. The thread will be closed before we start reviewing and accepting members.

Well gee wiz. That's unfortunate.

King Cin - June 1, 2015, 1:45 pm

Why are you applying?

I'm applying to Titans because I want to be a part of a group that gives back to the community once more. All the groups I'm currently a part of are private communities that don't actually benefit the greater part of the forum. Nothing wrong with that, I love both of the groups I'm in, but I have nothing to do on Hackforums at the moment, and I want to change that. I've been a member of Titans before, and I really enjoyed it. I had to leave because of some personal issues involving the death of someone close to me. I left all of my usergroups at that time and went on a long vacation ban. I've been back actively for a couple of weeks now and I've been waiting for Titans to open up recruitment again. I would really like to be a part of the future community events the group is planning to hold and I would passionately help out with creating and hosting them.

Contributions

I don't believe you'll get to know me enough by just listing 2 of my contributions. Besides that, I'm having trouble with choosing 2 contributions out of all of my threads, so I'll list a few more than 2.

Antivirus Finding Thread

A thread advising users on which antivirus program to use. I discontinued this thread a while ago. I'm not a part of The Brotherhood anymore, but I'm planning to open up this thread in the near future.

Anonymous Life Counseling

A thread that I opened up with a friend of mine. I personally think the method of submitting questions was really creative. Besides that, I enjoy counseling, so I might start another one of those services soon.

Phone Recommendation Thread

A thread that provides you with information about our modern smartphones. Their operating systems, the companies behind them, and a compilation of smartphone models with a good reputation.

The Order - Unofficial Group

A group that I started with Aura and Th3PonyWizard. It was fairly popular and we learned a lot together. We reached our goals in the end, so we disbanded. The group didn't achieve much on this forum from the eyes of someone who wasn't a part of the group, but all the members definitely widened their skillset.

Dualbooting Windows 7

A guide explaining how to dualboot and liveboot on Windows 7. It's a small thread, but still provides you with more than enough information to dualboot or liveboot in a swift manner.

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should expect immense activity, productivity and a lot of initiative from me. I'm done with my finals, I have a lot of free time at the moment, and I'm ready to get involved in various projects. At the moment I'm thinking of events that would be beneficial and enjoyable for the community that I'm planning to launch in the future. It would be nice if I could involve Titans if I come up with any good projects.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Because I'm a very flexible member. I can write up a guide containing thousands of words to benefit the community, but I can also write up a funny thread that can make your day. I enjoy debating with other people without emitting hostility, but I can also have a general chat with you or joke around. I don't believe many people have this quality, since it allows you to blend in with any type of atmosphere very easily. I'm also a very active member within group subforums, and as I noted, I'm very enthusiastic about projects involving the community.

Anything else?

I've said all I wanted to say. Hope you let me be a part of Titans once more.

Why are you applying?

Titans seems like an interesting group, they've done some cool events, like the scavenger hunt, and I think it'd be interesting to be in and help contribute to. I've always liked the small things the group does, like the morse code in the description or the brail in the signatures.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. I've provided continued support in the OS X for a while. I spend most of my time on the forum providing support there. Some of my larger contributions in the sections have been a trouble shooting guide (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4691516>) and a help desk (<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4779079>).

What should Titans expect from you?

If invited, I hope to assist with group projects in whatever means necessary as well as participate in the subforum. I hope to offer insights into planning events and to help brain storm said events/project.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I like to think I give back to the HF community more than most with the support I provide in the OS X section, but that aside, I think while there are some members who have more freetime and can post more, that I can put thought into things you might need assistance with and would do my best to further the name of the group.

Anything else?

Thanks for reading my application.

Fox™ - June 1, 2015, 3:27 pm

I won't be adding any special graphics or anything as I don't think they speak for me as an applicant.

Why are you applying?

I'd like to be a part of a group that contributes so much to HF, and be a part of the Titans family once again. Groups come and go, and throughout the 20+ groups I've been in, and the loads that I've seen go by--it's by far one of the best I've been in. I want to be able to actively contribute, and be a part of the family I loved to be a part of. You all are awesome.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.Emotional support - back when The Empire was around, I started the Helping Hands Project, and a major part of that was emotional support. The part that stands out to me most was the time I likely saved someone's life (I won't elaborate unless needed). I did the same sort of stuff when Phoenix was around. I helped countless people, and it thrilled me. I am of the belief that emotional support is the most impactful thing anyone can do for the community.

Giving back - No matter what it was, and whether I had money or not, I always took what I had and tried to give back. Those who give shall receive.

What should Titans expect from you?

Active contributions and an over-all quality member. I'm always willing to do anything in my power for another person, and I'll bring that same trait to the group.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I'm a creative, active, and driven individual. I'm quite intelligent, and I'm always up to discuss current ideas and bring new ones to the table. The fact that I'm driven to get back into a group should speak for itself.

You've built an amazing group, and I'd love to be a part of the Titans family yet again.

Anything else?

I'd love to be a Titans member again.

Just a quick note: I'm reading each and every one of your applications. So far, only 7 have really stood out to me.

Either put in more effort into your application, and stand out, or try and CONVINCE US.

When we see shit like "oh just take a look at my threads", that shows you're too lazy to peruse through your past threads, and link us 2 threads. Major turnoff.

If you want to convince me, tell me why you would fit as a part of our family. I don't give a crap if you fluff up your application to look nice / use verbose vocabulary; I literally look through your past posts and threads to see whether or not that is how you normally post, or if you're just doing it for the recruitment.

If you are too lazy to make a proper application, don't bother applying at all, because you're only going to be wasting your time, and mine / the rest of ours as well.

Anyways, enough with the rant, I wish the best of luck to all of you who apply to this Titans this recruitment.

?hoenix - June 1, 2015, 8:13 pm

My application This is my Titan's application, I took a bit of time and thought into this post and wish the other applicants the best of luck! Why are you applying? My name is Phoenix, I'm applying to Titans because I believe I can benefit from the group and it's members and vice versa. I know I'm fairly new to HackForums however, I do have a general understanding of how community forums work. My profile isn't quite as prestigious or flashy as some of the other applicants since I joined a little less than a month ago but if you're looking for a qualified and dedicated member then I can assure you I won't disappoint. I have quite a few skills but if I had to specialize in one thing it would be graphic design. I started using Adobe Photoshop back in 2011 when all Adobe programs were only in it's CS3 version, I was self taught for the most part looking up tutorials here and there when I found myself stuck. Art runs in my family whether it's digital or physical, it's not just a job or a hobby to me it's a lifestyle. I've studied every major aspect of graphic design whether it's three-dimensional rendering in Maxon Cinema 4D, creating logo concepts and vectors in Adobe Illustrator or simple photo editing and social media artwork in Adobe Photoshop. I can recreate just about anything that comes to mind. I can visualize an image and project it on to my monitor. I also have some basic hands-on experience with coding, I'm intermediate at vb.net and I'm learning C# and C++. If Titans is ever looking to start a product line then I should be of great use, with my design skills and coding experience I would be able to contribute a lot to a product line. Lastly I research computer hardware a bit in my spare time and can tell the difference between good and bad custom computer builds, although I can't contribute much to the group with this skill I think it might come in handy. List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Like I stated before, I haven't been here too long so I haven't made any crazy giveaways yet but I do have some bigger things planned for the members this summer. Feel free to send me a private message if you have any other concerns. What should Titans expect from you? The group as a whole should expect many contributions from me regarding free design services, help with computer builds, and anything coding related. I didn't state this earlier as I don't believe it's much of a skill but I am a hardcore gamer and enjoy playing bigger titles such as Minecraft, H1Z1 & CS:GO. Why should we pick you over the other applicants? I believe you should pick me because I'm very active on the forums and I'm constantly helping other members, I'm a prime example of what an active group member should be. I know this sounds a bit arrogant but you kinda have to be when you put this much work into helping others. I am very computer smart and have many skills in my arsenal that your common HF member doesn't.

Why are you applying?

I would really like to have some people to play games with and just talk to in general. I am always open to making new buds. I spend most of my time on my computer (unless I am with my fiancé) and would love to have more people to talk to and chill and play some games with. I'd also love to participate in events and help out other members in the group and on HF.

What should Titans expect from you?

I am just a somewhat laidback guy looking to hangout with some new friends, discuss topics, and play games with. You should expect a mature, active user from me.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I am mature when I need to be and love to discuss a variety of topics as well as play a variety of games. I would love to share my knowledge with other members as well as learn from you guys as well.

Anything else?

I would be absolutely honored to be accepted into the group. I have always wanted to be part of an official HF group but never really saw one that I'd fit in with until now.

Why are you applying?

I'm applying because I think that Titans is one of the most High Quality groups on Hack Forums and I feel like I could help it out a lot with my ideas and contributions.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. I gave out mentoring to a few users, they've made a lot of money from it, I gave them my private methods and advice to help them start out and become advanced CPA/PPD users.

I've done multiple PayPal giveaways and loans to users in the past, I feel like spreading luck whenever I get some, and I try to reflect that on Hack Forums.

What should Titans expect from you?

They should expect a funny, caring, decently intelligent, generous member who will contribute as much as he can to Titans. I can help set up Teamspeak servers, plug.dj rooms, Skype chats, I can host a Minecraft or CS:GO server, I can give Python and Javascript tutorials, and help people out with coding and other school/work stuff.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I plan to stay very active, I'm funny (I wish), I'll bring life and ideas into conversations and plans, I can host any type of server, I know Python and Javascript, and I'm willing to help out people whenever I can.

Why are you applying?
Titans has always been a high quality group to me. I really like the fact that this group is oriented around being a friendly, community group which hosts events and has fun together. I'm applying to become a part of that fun and make my time here at HackForums more enjoyable. I know a few people here at HF however I don't know too many people and I'd love to make new friends and joining this group would be one of the first steps to achieve that. I've never seen Titans be involved in much drama, the family always seems to be having fun and planning new activities for the community and I'd love to be a part of that and be able to do something for or with the community for once. Being in this group will hopefully mean I'll be able to gain skills so I can give back to the community and help out more than just in innuendo.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Relationship help desk (innuendo) -
<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4821758>

I'm aware I've only listed one, which means I'm probably stupid for applying knowing that I haven't contributed more than one thing for the community, but over time of being on this forum I'm hoping to learn different skills such as coding, programming or how to make money so I can give back to the community myself.

What should Titans expect from you?
I'm a very chilled out, relaxed member and I'm easy going. I try to be of a high quality nature all the time whilst being a friendly and nice member to others. I like to joke around, have fun & talk to people and this group is where I'd like to do that in. You can expect me to be an active member who's always participating in events that I can. I'd love to be able to come up with new ideas for possible events the group can do in the near future.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I believe that my personality and character could fit in well in this group and I'm an active member. I'll be socializing with the other members of the group and making the sub-forum active and amusing. I'm willing to learn new skills, have fun with all the other members and meet new people. I'm a dedicated member who doesn't cause trouble and doesn't like to involve themselves in drama.

Anything else?

Thank you for the opportunity to apply. I know that my application is let down with the fact that I've only got one contribution but in the future I'm hoping that'll increase to more as I learn new skills.

May edit this further in the future, but for now I'll just leave it simple. I really don't think I have enough detail and I don't think I've explained enough. :s

No, I'm not pissed off at all.

I usually see that people say that type of stuff to evoke an emotional response from the reader. It's actually a commonly known manipulation technique (I study psychology in my free time). That's why, whenever I see members wrote things like that, it disappoints me because they're either trying to manipulate us, or they simply lack the confidence they should have when applying for any group.

Think about it like this. If you went to a job interview intimidated by the rest of the competing applicants, and you decide to come off as not confident, chances are, you probably won't get the job. The same concept is being applied here.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Well, Lets put it this way, I'm sure there are plenty of other applicants which you could say have given more to the community, Taken part in the HF community and become a more well known user than myself... But at the end of the day I go why not take a chance and recruit someone who isn't as big as some of these other users, Maybe I'm that hidden gem Titan needs. Lets put it this way, Choose me and I will put a hell of a lot of effort in to stand out and become a big part of the Titan community. I respect all users and I don't think you would have any trouble noticing that, I believe everyone is equal no matter what. ?

Why are you applying?

I'm applying because every time I go onto the showgroups page I feel faintly disappointed at how few of the groups are active/interesting/doing things for the community. Titans is one of the very few groups that I've maintained an interest in joining for a while, having seen all of the really kooky stuff the group came out with vis a vis the casino and the riddles. I'll talk about what I can offer the group below, but that's the draw of Titans for me: not just its activity, but its creativity and magnanimity with running projects that benefit the whole community rather than just a select few.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. I've made various tutorials and things relating to graphics (I also host the weekly HFNT Gallery). Here's the most recent:

<https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4841451>

I also try to help people with debating (made a gigantic mega-thread on that a while ago) and academia. Here's my helpdesk: <https://hackforums.net/showthread.php?tid=4378806>

What should Titans expect from you?

A willingness to get involved with projects, combined with blue sky thinking. I've helped to pioneer various projects in other groups, often single-handedly; in Polymath, I helped to organise the Cicada 3301 contest (this sadly never happened due to the sale of the group), and made regular contributions to group-wide projects. As part of The Brotherhood, I initiated the Launchpad scheme to give aspiring graphic designers help, advice, and one-on-one tuition from some of the site's best artists. In Pirates, I'm working on several unannounced graphics-related community projects to help the marketplace, as well as managing their radio station/DJ Lounge.

My skills that I can bring include my 4 years of experience with graphic design (for which I was invited to Polymath, led The Brotherhood's Design Bureau, produce the Graphics Gallery each week as part of the HFNT, and for which I was recruited to the hyper-exclusive arts group Fly by Night amongst countless other groups), my essay writing ability (I'm taking English Literature at university), my experience with marketing (proper marketing, rather than HF's somewhat eyebrow-raising definition), my knowledge of current affairs and politics, and my debating skills (I compete at a national level). The important thing to realise here is that these are not just specific skills, but rather they are also interconnected and transferable; if one combines a persuasive debating mind with one that can also produce high-level graphics, for instance, then one ends up with skills in marketing. Thus these skills have inherent value above and beyond their immediate worth, for the potential range of their application is almost limitless. I just need a direction, which I feel Titans can help to provide.

I therefore feel that I can use my wide base of interconnected skills to not only help Titans with its group-wide projects, but also to innovate and start some of my own under Titans' name and with the help of other members.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Because I believe that a contribution to the community ought to be more than just making a random giveaway thread and throwing loose change at everyone who posts. It should be something that enriches people's lives, and which helps them to enjoy themselves. After all, that's why we're all on here, in the end. We all want to have fun, and maybe learn a thing or two whilst we're at it. That's what I try to help people do via my contributions (although I've only listed a couple as asked, you can view a load more in my reputation/recent threads).

I also feel that my experience with leading projects (and whole group sectors, like in The Brotherhood, where I ran the Graphics Sector) places me in the upper quartile of applicants, because it enables me to not only come up with ideas that the community would respond well to, but also then to see those ideas through to fruition through proper application of my wide transferable skills base, which makes me an adaptable member, too.

Overall, I believe that whilst undoubtedly I still have a lot to learn in my fields (as we all do), my wide ranging knowledge, deep expertise in my fields, and creative thinking demarcate me as the sort of individual Titans would like to have on board.

Anything else?

Just that I'd like to thank you for opening your recruitment more than once every three decades and for refusing buy-ins, but above all to thank the group for actually contributing to HF. Not enough groups do; with or without me, then, keep on doing what you're doing!

Yin - June 3, 2015, 12:03 pm

Why are you applying?

I'm applying because I'm no longer apart of any groups due to my inactivity the last few years. Titans seems like a high quality group, unlike most of the groups that just sell their spots in and then have drama because the leaders scam someone in an attempt to sell the group.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Ex-staff member, also created the Reviewers official group for eBooks (not sure if they still do anything), was a moderator of the eBook section when it was first booming after my tenure as Staff.

Created the HF News, not sure I like where it's going now that Sir is out of the helm but to each their own.

What should Titans expect from you?

A high quality member that isn't an immature kid. I've seen everything and done everything on these forums and know what high quality is and what it represents.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I believe I'd be a good contribution because I can bring previous expertise of the forums and correlate that into current day situations.

Anything else?

I appreciate Titans not succumbing to the absolute BS of official groups nowadays. When I ran the Black Knights and was apart of the HJT Malware Removal team and even staff, groups didn't mean anything and now it's just one big money pile.

Nixing - June 3, 2015, 2:34 pm

Why are you applying?

I'd like to participate in this HF group simply because I want to enrich my ideas for the future of my life. I'm certainly hoping that I'll meet or better - become friends with creative and tough-minded individuals. On the other hand I'd like to leave something behind, to hand over some "tips and tricks" from my current lifetime experience to other group members. Basically the main idea behind my application for this group is to experience new adventures and to have fun.

What should Titans expect from you?

I do consider myself as a helpful person so you can contact me or just chat about RL, or some online experiences whenever I'm available. I am an artist and my schedule is always full. Notwithstanding that I am ready to give a hand. I have some skills with Photoshop but I don't consider them to be beyond reproach. I create music and that's my zeal. I'm hanging out @ HF in my free time for fun and to make people happy. So you can expect a positive and cheerful person.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

There are so many people who'd want to apply for this group, honestly. Maybe there are some who deserve to get more than me, who knows. I have many good qualities but you should be the judge of that. When I browsed the previous pages I also saw many poor applications and I don't get it.

Why does anyone want to be in a group just for the funky feeling? Hopefully I will get accepted so I could have some awesome time with new people. You'll choose if I'm worthy actually.

Cory™ - June 3, 2015, 4:57 pm

Why are you applying?

I am applying to join Titans because ever since I have become active on Hackforums I have always noticed that Titans was made of the most HQ members. I have always wanted to join Titans but there was never a recruitment so I now have my chance. I would love to meet new HQ members like myself here on Hackforums and I would love to participate in group activities/events and post in the sub-forum.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.

What should Titans expect from you?

Titans should expect a very HQ member. I will be extremely active in the sub-forum and Skype chats. I have many skills such as marketing, gaming, video editing and more! I have many products here on Hackforums and I would love to share my skills with other members. I am very into gaming and video editing and I have a Youtube gaming channel with over 4,000 Subscribers! I could help members with video editing and starting their Youtube channels. There are many other things that I could contribute to Titans and I would love to become a member.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

You should pick me because I am a great guy and a very HQ member on Hackforums. I have contributed a lot to Hackforums and I would love to do the same with Titans. As I said before, I have many skills that I can help and teach other Titans members. I will be very active in the sub-forum and group activities and projects.

Anything else?

Burnzy - June 3, 2015, 5:25 pm

Why are you applying?

i would like to be a part of the group to meet new friends, participate in all kinds of projects and have fun in general, i've been a hf member for a while now, i had only 1 group in which i got into with 300 posts, it was called The RATs crew, i absolutley enjoyed every single day in it, and members were great to talk with, i want to experience that feeling once more, and i belive Titans is the right group to go for.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made.Active RAT support and mentoring assisting new members with hacking questions and helping the community in rules section.

What should Titans expect from you?

a really good friend to be honest, i can make jokes with others, chill on skype, anything involved for good atmosphere, but ofc its not just about personality, i will do my best to help others with needs, participate in projects where i have some knowledge and be there for others.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

i will not make you pick me over the others, there is always someone better which will make my chances lower, from the way i see it, not everyone can contribute tons to hf, like some guys with alot of money or years of coding skills, something like that, i would always like to have some people in the group that dont just talk business, that will have time to deal with members, and just make the group nice and shill place!

Anything else?

i know my app isnt as fancy and shiny as you saw earlyer, i could had put the logo on top like some people did, icons and all the other stuff, but as far as i remember, app form is an app form, nothing else should be added, other than that, last thing i got to say, i never did anything bad to anyone on hf, i never even thought of scamming anyone, and am proud of that, all i want is a group to have my good old times back, to belong somewhere, help others and have fun! peace out and goodluck to everyone applying.

Archer - June 5, 2015, 5:45 pm

Why are you applying?

I'm applying because the Titans seems like a HQ group, I rarely see any of the common flaming between groups involving the Titans so it already seems much more mature than other groups here on HF. The group has interested me for some time and I really want to join to help contribute and become apart of the Titans family!

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. I have helped many members publicly in the Beginner Hacking and other sections, answering questions and pointing users in the right direction.

I've also worked on several projects for members, helping them fix any bugs in their code over teamviewer, or helping them get different tools set up and working privately.

What should Titans expect from you?

The Titans can expect an active, high quality member who just wants to contribute in any beneficial way possible. I'm a laid back guy, and I really hate seeing all the group drama and LQ flaming that goes on in some of the posts here on HF. Didn't seem like it was always this way.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I've been here on HF for several years and while I haven't always posted, when I do I try to maintain a certain level of quality. I can write guides or help with contests and give aways in the name of the Titans, or any other duty to the group that I may be called to preform.

Anything else?

I really hope to join the Titans family, to grow, learn, and make new friends. Good luck to everyone who's applying to this fantastic group!

Dan Smith - June 6, 2015, 3:53 am

Why are you applying?

Because Titans is one of the few non-buy-in groups of HF, and I like that a lot. It means that only HQ members can get in, and the idiots that have money can't just buy themselves a spot. So what I'm hoping to find is some high quality members to have a good time with.

I involve myself with the groups I become part of. I like joining groups because it gives me the opportunity to meet new people and become active in a different part of the forum. If needed, I can also provide idea's for anticipated events and help administrate them as well. You should pick me over other applicants because I have a genuine interest in being involved in a group that sets out to have fun with not only within it's group itself but the community as well.

Titans seems to be a pretty interesting group with a good selection of members. You also strive to help the community and make a impact on it through events which I'd love to help plan and create. Titans goes where other groups don't and that really interests me and makes me want to be apart of this group. Your group is different from everything else and it amazes me on how you can create new and unique ideas for the community to be apart of. Just the fact that you can make Tltans not just for people and make it not just another Userbar is something I want to help. I want more people to have fun with Titans.

What should Titans expect from you?

The members and leaders of Titans can expect a respectable member that's willing to post in the Sub-Forum and also help with the group's endeavors.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

As I stated before, I'm an active member who has the skills to help with anything you'll need whether it be with Programming, Writing or Management of events.

Anything else?

I'm from Illinois in the Central Timezone.

Awesome group, don't hesitate to apply.

Why are you applying?

I've just finishes all the compulsory education that I was forced to do by the corrupt UK Parliament and I now have time on my hands to work towards a career goal, in my case design work, photographic work and everything creative. Just get in me. I think I could bring a creative mindset to the group.

List 2 contributions to HF you have made. Free Graphics Service

Generally helping members out in the EW section or giving feedback and critiquing graphics, photographic or video work in the Graphics Section.

What should Titans expect from you?

A devoted and creative member, nothing less.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

I'm becoming more active, I now have more free time on my hands and would like to do something with it. I also create HQ graphics.

Anything else?

My recent design work. I think i'm a fast learner and eager to learn more.

There is about 180 apps atm, 1/15th of 180 is about 12.3333 repeating obv you cant have .333 of a person accepted so its around 12.

What meant was that it's highly likely they won't accept that much members.

From what I've seen, Titans was never a big group, and from what I've seen I don't think Realizm wants it to be a big group. I think they'll invite between 4 to 7 people max.

Why are you applying?

Mostly to see how different groups are.. See what each one does differently. That is my reason to apply.

What should Titans expect from you?

I don't know really. Mostly me active high and drunk ? Probably that. But you know what I can offer to the group then you have an idea through the contributions.. I'll always try and help those who need it the help.

Why should we pick you over the other applicants?

Not my area. It is yours to decide if you want me in the group or not. You know what I offer so...

Anything else?

nope
