Thread: Xbox Product Problems and New Policy

Omniscient - May 21, 2015, 11:46 am

Because Xbox products are all over the map and we have really shitty unclear rules about I'm going to try and define everything a lot better. Paradoxum has helped me break it down.

Xbox, Xbox One, and Xbox 360 (Consoles) = Not allowed unless modified or used

Xbox Games = Allowed if not warez

JTAG, RGH Mod (Jailbroken consoles) = Allowed

KV (Key Vaults) = Not allowed

XBL Gold (Live Codes) = Not allowed

XBL Points/MS Points/MS Currency/Xbox Currency (gift cards) = Not allowed

I have closed the "Xbox Live Membership Codes" forum.

Any comments before I make this final and change the Help Docs to reflect these changes?

REKTED BY LOLI GODS - May 21, 2015, 11:48 am

Nice job clearing things up for the people on the marketplace for gaming I seen some threads in the marketplace lately and saw people selling xbl codes and I questioned myself if that was allowed and xbox products< in general.

Projec7 - May 21, 2015, 11:49 am

Question. Why are KV not allowed? Most Jtags had a use for those.

Marshmallow Man - May 21, 2015, 11:50 am

While I disagree with lots of your rules about xbox, I have myself referred to your user title.

Foundatons - May 21, 2015, 11:53 am

Really nice, now that it has been defined for some users who didn't know otherwise.

JDCL - May 21, 2015, 11:54 am

How about team xecuter chips that help make jtags and RGH'es? Can those be sold?

Wheezy Gang - May 21, 2015, 11:56 am

Any rules towards Xbox accessories? Like mics, controllers, kinect, so on.

Roger Waters - May 21, 2015, 11:56 am

What would a post have to justify whether a console is new or used? Someone could easily say "this was used once" and get around this. With all of the Social Engineered Xbox One consoles being thrown around I'm surprised any of them are being allowed to be sold.

Omniscient - May 21, 2015, 12:05 pm

Quote:Question. Why are KV not allowed? Most Jtags had a use for those.

Due to association with fraud and SE. We have rules against serials in the DBHA page.

Quote:Product Keys and Unlicensed Software

Product keys, key gens, serials and software cracks are not allowed. This includes the selling, trading, or requesting of any illegal unlicensed product keys. HF is not a warez forum and we will no longer tolerate our site being used as one.

That's the problem with the Xbox stuff. Lots of conflicts with existing rules. So I either have to allow the exception explicitly or I have to clearly define it as not allowed. Everyone including staff has been confused on how to deal with this. I'm making an attempt to clarify now.

Quote:This would also mean PSN cards are also prohibited right?

How about I deal with that another day?

Quote:How about team xecuter chips that help make jtags and RGH'es? Can those be sold?

Under the above set of rules I do believe they would be allowed. Xecuter has been around for over a decade and that's because legally speaking they aren't illegal. It's the game warez themselves which are illegal.

Quote:What would a post have to justify whether a console is new or used? Someone could easily say "this was used once" and get around this.

I'm going to allow the sale of modded Xbox systems. Stands to reason that allowing the sale of used consoles wouldn't be problem. Brand new SE'd systems I won't allow. And yes, I know members may lie about it but I'm unable to check the validity of any products sold on HF. Not all my decisions make 100% perfect logical sense. I do however need to make the decision and then define it well enough for members to understand the rule, not the exact reasoning behind it.

Rob Gronkowski - May 21, 2015, 12:24 pm

This all sounds good. Doesn't affect me really but I'm happy to know I can buy a modded Xbox if I want.

Fix Yo Bottles - May 21, 2015, 12:27 pm

Damn, sucks you cant buy/sell codes but definitely does make sense.

VACation Time - May 21, 2015, 12:28 pm

I love this forum but we will get to the point where we cant buy or sell anything i was looking forward to opening a shop with XBL codes and buying them now its removed, HF Is abit to tight in my opinion and i still dont know the reason for the removal omni.

Funtage - May 21, 2015, 12:29 pm

Sucks about the Xbox Live Membership (Gold) codes. I've been buying my codes here for the past 5 years and it was one of the reasons that I joined (it's so cheap to get here). I can understand the reasoning though but eh

Realizm - May 21, 2015, 12:38 pm

Sounds good, I've often wondered about this.

I'm assuming the same "used/modified" rule goes for Xbox accessories such as controllers, mic, battery packs, etc.?

Industry - May 21, 2015, 12:54 pm

Well, you asked for feedback so I'll give some. This is fucking stupid. You've allowed Xbox LIVE to be sold after the banishment of Xbox LIVE currencies and points for so long, so what has changed now? I know Microsoft's CEO or w.e hasn't contacted you requesting this to be done, so why the change of heart?

With every update to HF where you take away something this site is well known for, it slowly decays the quality that the marketplace brings to the forums. If I was a new member now joining these forums, I would not be as intrigued as I was to join several years ago.

Expels - May 21, 2015, 12:54 pm

I was sure that you needed KV's to play online with JTAGs? Am I wrong in this thinking?

Just curious myself, not an xbox pro or anything XD.

Quick question. What about methods to get xbox live codes. There are always promos like doritos, mars cAndy, mhf, etc. are these methods allowed to be shared as long as they dont break any other rules? Because honestly i love hf for finding new methods to get xbox trial codes.

I understand codes aren't able to be sold, but what about the method of obtaining free LIVE? Usually the free LIVE is a promotion from Microsoft. From what I understand, this doesn't contain any BHA, but does require the input of a credit card to be used in order for the membership to work.

Purps - May 22, 2015, 4:45 pm

The promotional 1 month's that are directly through Microsoft @ xbox.com require a payment option. The 48 hour trials and 14 day trials are obviously different (considered prepaid codes by Microsoft) than promotional memberships offered on xbox.com.

EDIT @walter's deleted comment that stated the memberships don't require a credit card.

aguila - May 22, 2015, 5:06 pm

Since you want feedback.

Xbox, Xbox One, and Xbox 360 (Consoles) = Not allowed unless modified or used

I can see why you would put this in, due to people SEing consoles and selling them, as "barely used"

Xbox Games = Allowed if not warez

I can understand this, though most don't really buy XBox games on here (Unless if you mean LT)

JTAG, RGH Mod (Jailbroken consoles) = Allowed

This is pretty nice for members who are into modding, though I am not really interested in Modding and such, so not that big for me.

KV (Key Vaults) = Not allowed

I don't know what KV's are(not a modder), so I wont give feedback.

XBL Gold (Live Codes) = Not allowed

This is something I don't really support, but I can see why, due to people using fraud to get them sometimes.

XBL Points/MS Points/MS Currency/Xbox Currency (gift cards) = Not allowed

Eh, I am kinda on the edge for this one, I don't really use MSP, but I need them whenever I want to buy MP's, avatar stuff, and other items, since you can usually get them cheaper on forums like this, but I also see the other side, people could card them and use other types of fraud.

Huskar - May 22, 2015, 10:13 pm

Balloon - May 23, 2015, 4:54 am

The problem with membership codes are there are different varieties. You have the 1 month - 12 month. Then you have the 48 hour and 7 day codes. The latter are not social engineered. They could be generated through means similar to a thread I did a while ago with regards to Skittles.

Probably because RGH/jtag's dont need unbanned kv's to run. And you can do legit things with a rgh/jtag. Yet KV's are used for cheating online and can be stolen.

Thanks for a clarification. Granted, I'm super bummed that Gold is now disallowed. I had a better experience buying them here than from sites like G2A.

EDIT: Also, thank you for closing the membership forum. It's a cesspool of begging at this point.

D?ath - May 24, 2015, 12:17 pm

As an xbox modder, I think this would be helpful. For those of you who do not know what a KV is, A KV is known as a Key Vault, It is used to spoof the banned console and to be thought of as another console so you can use your xbox online. So it makes perfect sense to ban them from this forum. However, The first rule makes not much sense to me because I am pretty certain that people can always say that the console they are selling is a "used" console. XBL codes should be banned because people can SE them and sell them for cash. I think Xbox Peripherals should be baned as well jut because I have SE'd them myself and it is such an easy way to make a quick buck.

That being said, the way the rules are, they should stay that way.

Fayd - May 25, 2015, 7:08 pm

Except for the fact that most of the codes that were being sold were stolen or social engineered. Why else do you think people were selling them for cheap? This has resulted in many deal disputes as people's accounts have gotten suspended over using "stolen" codes. I guess if anyone finds a good deal for gold - or there's a special promotion - they can post in the Shopping Deals section or whatever it's called.

For the xbl gold codes am kinda iffy on that decision to be honest because what if someone legit got the codes like bought it from a store and wasn't needing them anymore and wanted to sell it here to get some of the money back or to give it away. I think if it was got legally then it should be fine.

But I have strong opinions and I believe if this is going to happen for the xbl section then the same should occur to the psn part aswell since banning one console and not the other it's a bit unfair for quite a lot of users.

Damn, I was trying to sell a One game a while back and was told by someone that it wasn't allowed so removed it. I may do a giveaway on it now.

Thanks, Omni. Now I am purdy clear on the rules surrounding EggBox.

Thanks for this. The Xbox Codes forum was getting out of hand with new members begging for codes and I didn't really know why we even had it.

Update on this thread. We're easing up on the policy since we now allow gift cards.
