Thread: Food/Cooking Sub-section under Personal Life section?

Vitani's Mate - May 22, 2015, 3:16 am

This is just a little thought I have going around in my head, I know that this has been suggested before.. I think.

But it would be good to have a section that people can talk about food and cooking such as sharing recipes, reviews of food ect ect.

But yeah.. Just a little thought. <3

This is hack forums... I don't understand why we even have the personal life section in the first place.. I really think this is a bad idea.

the name means nothing... what do u get from the name 'nike' or 'mcdonalds'..

what does nike have to do with clothes?

what does mcdonalds have to do with shit food?

The difference between what you're saying and reality is that 'Hack' forums is SUPPOSED to be a forum about hacking, hence its name. 'Nike' isn't a word in the English dictionary, or at least it's not used as a word, it's a brand name. It doesn't mean the store is about a 'Nike' or anything. However in the case of hackforums, it literally has the word 'hack' in it..

This should really happen.

It would give people a chance to share their recipes ect ect.
