Get your adfly bullshit outta here

Ninja - May 26, 2015, 9:39 am

You are not allowed to put adf.ly links in this section, nor surveys. But good job nonetheless...

w34k - May 26, 2015, 9:39 am

I don't think anyone will use this. No one uses no-ip anymore and there is already a client for it.

Adfly links belong in the referral section... as nice as this looks i won't be touching your links...

Since the FBI took over NO-IP no one uses it tbh only for legit usage, but who here use's it for legit reasons??

Saying that form the ui you did a nice job, not seen the code to comment tho, maybe just put it on pastebin?

I didn't say use my program or something, I posted the source code for the people who want as an exemple to make a no-ip updater for their RAT! ?

Neos07 - May 26, 2015, 10:01 am

I don't know how to reply you ???
I think you didn't understand calvv - May 26, 2015, 10:09 am what does this even do? Aren't there already a client for this?

I have had plenty of experience with RATS thanks. when i was a kid...

Like i said after the FBI took over no-ip everyone who likes NOT getting arrested use's other dns resolvers/services now.. Not that hard to get the point really is it?

Neos07 - May 26, 2015, 10:16 am

You will not be arrested if you add the no-ip update to your rat, how they will get your ip, the users of your rat maybe will get arrested.

No-IP is owned by microsoft who happily help any NSA request.. you do the math.. it really aint hard for them to access the logs

Neos07 - May 26, 2015, 10:21 am

Sorry dude!

You're missing the point. The FBI has access to No-Ip's records and logs. If you're hiding your IP then you don't want police or that person to know who is behind it, and the most important is the police not being able to get the original IP. But the FBI can get logs from no-ip whenever they please, so if it does get taken to the police they will have no problem tracking you down. This is the reasoning behind him saying its useless because if you're using it for the purpose you say it should be (RATs) its completely obsolete because it offers no protection if taken to police, or if you email the abuse email at no-ip with proof they will shut it down. Nowadays there are many more secure forms of protection, so no one uses no-ip making this a near worthless post.

there is a standard tool for this now but this has a cool skin! might have used it if NO-IP was still safe!

Neos07 - April 21, 2016, 12:09 pm

Bumping this, maybe someone need it.

No-ip is still useful to me for testing my electronic projects. Thank you for sharing the source.
