Thread: Monetizing 20k impressions / day tweet

DOC2tochu - May 27, 2015, 9:33 am

Hello,

Some guy owes me some money but he can't pay so he's offered me to give me for 2 weeks any tweet i want on several of his Tweeter accounts. A tweet usually gets around 20k impressions / day.

I am asking for WHAT to promote through that to monetize it to it's maximum. Shorted links, surveys, i don't care, just what can monetize this to it's maximum potential.

Thank you!

Reject the offer and take the money instead. You clearly have no idea so you'll waste it and make nothing in return.

I'd rather take the Tweets and get into this stuff. I'll take the risk.

You dont get into this by going straight to tweets. Whats his twitter even about? How many followers are legit? How are they obtained? Any associated website/fb page anything that brings traffic to that account?

Take the money, I'm honest with you, you'll learn shit and you'll never do anything again because of the feeling after you fail.

Let's assume the followers are legit, I trust him a lot and he's a reputable member of a community I am in. I don't know the number of followers but he gets around 20k impressions a day on a tweet (verified through stats platform). He got accounts on niches gaming, news, computers and sports.

I'll still take the risk.

TBH, I rather take the money than the tweet stuff. The 20k can spend on investment in stocks/projects/etc here too.

I don't think he means the guy owes him 20k lol

"lended twitter for 2 weeks" is like CPA landing page.

If you don't have experience with converting traffic into leads or sales, then you make few $ max.

Also I have doubts your pal have 100% legit followers.

If he would have 100% legit & real followers, he would already know how to monetize them better than you, make money and give you back what he owes you.

And most importantly, if one have REAL twitter followers he never accept "post anything" because he don't want to lose them.

So take Sonex advice and reject offer. It's better to wait week, month ... for your money then getting shit you can't use instead.

Okay, your points make sense Azraelstear. Thanks a lot, I will just wait some more time and take the money.

Try and get the money although if you wish you could use something like MyLikes (although I heard they cut from your conversions or something).
