Why does lifetime raise $10 after a week, isnt that a useless rule? ;|

What is the difference about buying a booter and shit?

Difference is unlike Stressers with the profit making .etc every penny earned is used on making project succeed and become stronger we not gonna feed some bull shit advice to customers we telling them what they wanna hear its a SkypeBot all in one DDOS, resolve, port scan, .etc yeah i admit theirs many but InsanityBot is worked on very hard to make sure we are here for long time to come.

And for the price changing to $10 it helps contributing to our fellow affiliates on providing us with top quality API's for making this work.

I received a vouch copy and its very good. I would very much recommend this to anyone who finds any need for all those commands. its quick stable and reliable.

why pay separately for any of the commands when you can have all of them for cheap.

I hope you keep up the good work and keep on updating.

I updated the account list and the DDos API for Skype bot power restored and Generators all topped up.

To be honest, it would be much more convincing for anybody to buy it if there is a video preview (showing most of the great and useful commands and how it works out) or if there is some sort of a Trial Package.

That is in my opinion.

If there is such, I might purchase Life-Time.

Good luck with sales nevertheless!
