Thread: Who Owns The Empire's Graphics?

Effexion - May 28, 2015, 1:35 pm

I want to put a few of my Empire-headed threads on to a blog and was looking to contact the graphic's owners.

Mad76e - May 28, 2015, 1:37 pm

Well the person who brought the graphics.. Tibit, However he is banned so i think it belongs to the maker in this case

c x y k - May 28, 2015, 1:39 pm

Tibit would have purchased the rights to the graphics, I would assume.

I think there were multiple designers however.

Comedic - May 28, 2015, 1:50 pm

Yea i'm wondering who the GFX designers were too because they're nice!

Thought it might've been Calibur for a sec.

prada ? - May 28, 2015, 2:02 pm

Tibit owns the full rights to them, you'd have to contact him

Meow - May 28, 2015, 2:06 pm

I think it was Tibit but he is banned.

His twitter : <https://twitter.com/tibitximer> since he is banned on hf.

edit: nvm,I tought Tibit made graphics but looks like i was wrong.

Rivalry - May 28, 2015, 2:06 pm

Under Intellectual Property laws, the designer still owns the rights unless they explicitly sold all of them to Tibit (they probably didn't). Tibit was (for lack of a better word) 'leased' the right to use them with the designer's consent, but the designer still owns the IP of the pieces.

As for who the designer is, I can't help you I'm afraid. I used to know, but I've forgotten. It may have been xitoxic, but I can't remember.

Rivalry made most of them. The empire's graphics were pretty great comparing to the current ones.

I made a bunch of signatures and avatars (and I own all of the IP for The Empire's Products' designs), but the sigs and avatars were just based on the horse motif established by whoever created the original stuff. I didn't make either UB.

Roger Waters - May 28, 2015, 2:15 pm

I thought Novica made the most recent UB? I know some random made the original one which was why it was changed in the first place. I'll go back and try to find a thread (if any) when they were trying to change the UB to figure it all out.

Effexion - May 28, 2015, 2:43 pm

Thanks, guys. It's the graphics in this thread I am after. Are they yours, Rivalry?

I honestly think it was a member contest when that was popular. Jesus that was many moons ago

Fox™ - May 28, 2015, 2:50 pm

The designer of the most recent graphics was closed on HF because, for lack of a better word, he was an asshole.

Nope, they're not mine.

Rivalry I don't think any body understands graphic rights

This is because most people will just use them regardless. I am doing the right thing here by actually trying to seek out the creator before plagiarizing his or her work.

Can you please tell me what you learnt from The University of Graphics Rights? I am dying to know.
