Thread: Revamp Comedy Section

This is why the comedy section failed... Miserably

- No strict rules
- No strict guidelines
- Section title bates trolls
- No strict moderation

I'm the one who suggested the section and not even I wanted to get involved in the stupidity being posted there.

I am willing to devote my time to making the section work.

- I will write up a rule list that works with HF existing posting guidelines
 - I will write a detailed introduction and a how-to of how comedy writing works, and how to write your own original funny bits, stories, and jokes
 - I am willing to monitor the section daily, ridding any posts by trolls and posts that do not meet the section's rules
- I understand why the section was deleted. And if this suggestion is denied, I understand as well.

That section should never be brought back. It's just filled with members like boxxy trying to be funny.

In my opinion, it's a useless section. No matter what the rules, it will be filled with C&P jokes from reddit and elsewhere. And some others will use it to troll other members. If I actually wanted a laugh, I'd rather go browse reddit or the deal disputes section in here.

Or: You could stop being a little prissy fagg?!

Posting threads about your boyfriend Grin for attention

Being a horrible member shitting on everyone you confront

Being more edgy than Saturday

And this:

Then say something.

Perhaps the Comedy Section should come back, so all your shitty threads go there and not pollute the forum.

Got positive feedback from some users. Thought I'd reopen the thread, get some more opinions in.

^ just keep the personal stuff out of this thread
