advscan - June 2, 2015, 11:23 am i need to ask the most important question about this crypter when the bin will be detected so the av can kill the process and loose the victims ? or it will by pass av by unkillable process and keep the slave online?

Trillium - June 2, 2015, 11:55 am

@Shinigami_

Thank you for your nice vouch ?

@advscan

When you enable the Option called "Anti Debug" the process will be unkillable so it will be secure for sure ?

When you enable the Option called "Anti Debug" the process will be unkillable so it will be secure for sure ?

So, you're saying when an AV detects the crypted file it cannot kill it? I don't think so.

Trillium - June 2, 2015, 5:03 pm

Of course it switch his process to Protected/Unkillable Process ?

debug - June 2, 2015, 5:36 pm

(Jun 2, 2015 05:03 PM)Trillium Wrote: [\[CITE\]](#) Of course it switch his process to Protected/Unkillable Process ?Wanna post proof of that? Include a runtime detected statement using your "anti debug," showing the AV detect the file, and then not killing it.

NonLeaf - June 2, 2015, 5:43 pm

This is by far the best product here.

Living End - June 3, 2015, 1:29 am

Is this a long term project? in other words is it worth buying 6 months?

Trillium - June 3, 2015, 3:51 am

@debug

Hi when the stub goes detected i will do but for now i dont make my stub just for fun detected only for a video

(I know 3 Engines of it first: when you try kill the file you get Bluescreen, the second when you try to kill process it shows error because the process was set to "system process", and the third way is using a dll file.)

@Living End

Hey of course i try to run this Project so long as possible when possible (+10 years).
For more informations you can contact me in skype ?

Stubs still FUD ?

Sarge - June 10, 2015, 6:04 pm

I am the new official partner of Trillium. I have seen a ton of crypters come and go in my 5 years here on HF, and this is by far one of the best. I truly think it is better than iCrypt was back in the day. I am thoroughly impressed, and happy to be a part of this project.

Trillium - June 10, 2015, 6:18 pm
