I'm hesitant to join Forums lately, i've been on probably 20/30 where i've actually spent alot of time on, and only 2 are still here.

I mean, It looks cool and all, But i'm just feeling like it's gonna cost me alot of time and work, for nothing.

However, i do have to admit the forum looks pretty cool, and i may signup soon. Goodluck!

Feel free to lurk around a bit :D You're not forced to spend a lot of time on the forum :P Thanks for the compliment by the way.

This looks like a good site. I'd be interested in being a mod if possible.

Opensys - June 3, 2015, 1:22 am

Well it looks a good forum only things I don't like is the theme layout but hey my opinion won't change yours, you seem to have a good member base that's growing, the niche is very good and creative, with a mixture of categories and the domain is very nice.

Herion - June 3, 2015, 4:17 am

Nice little forum. You should make the top parts transparent so it looks good because it kinda looks messed up at the top.

DarkN3ss61 - August 30, 2015, 12:45 am

Website has been running for nearly a year! We put the initial site in beta while testing things, opened it to the public in January then in July migrated it and worked on the design. We plan to keep ExtForum running for a very long time. Join the craze!

My name always have been Herion, not changed it :P (well once but that was to add the capital H instead of a normal one, looks more classy)
