How to get ton's of Profile Views, Popularity, Friend Requests on Meetme by using Haley Cowley's profile picture:

Hello Everyone,

I'm going to show you how to increase your popularity using MeetMe's systems fairly easily for free! Want to get a lot of likes, profile views, Admirers, and basically cheat the system?

This trick does not require any downloads or any software to do this. All you do is register under a females name. Steal a hot girl's pictures from Facebook, and replicate the information, and then make a convincing profile that you're a female. Then watch your popularity increase like this:

How is this useful or beneficial in any way? Are you suggesting this as an e-whoring method? A social engineering tactic? Is this supposed to be profitable in some way? Or are you just filling the forums with useless garbage that is common knowledge and obvious to the great majority of us in hopes for attention and reputation? Are you just a troll? I feel like you are with that pitiful post count.

Besides this is a known technique, not just for meetme, but is e-whoring in a nutshell, you have contributed nothing to the forums except a colossal waste of our time.

Thank you for your inspirational quote . However just like you and many others. You are also entitled to your opinion. This is actually useful for people who sign up looking to increase friend s on there profile who want software like friend blaster pro who cannot get the download anymore, since it is not compatible with operating systems and has been discontinued.

What exactly is the point of this? Bragging rights?

I clearly state the purpose in the second quote if you would pay attention.
