Thread: --->FREE DOMAIN<---GET YOUR FREE DOMAIN

OGUgameuniverse - June 4, 2015, 3:18 pm

Hello Hackforums,

A lot of people want free domains but they are very hard to find and are most often only subdomains but not today. Instead of having your .wix.com or .weebly.com or whatever you would get you can have you very own domain. Just go to freenom.com and you will get a FREE DOMAIN NAME Once again all you have to do is go to freenom.com Post to keep this thread alive so others can see ?

Is this legit? Is there any catch to it?

ohkillem - July 5, 2015, 1:33 pm

Will take a look at this. Thanks, mate!

'Cynical - July 5, 2015, 1:35 pm

All of these domain extensions have and always will be free...

Squito - July 6, 2015, 12:50 am

The free TLDs are: .TK, .ML, .GA, .CF and .GQ. The catch is that the DNS update usually takes quite a lot of time.

Well not for everyone, since many people are too lazy to run a google search for free domains. Also many people does not know that an experienced internet surfer stays the f away from sites that use a free domain, since the majority of these sites are bad for your computer.

Krule - July 8, 2015, 7:35 pm

I've used all these domains back in the day, these extensions will ALWAYS be free. What would've been really handy is a free .com/.net/.org/ anyway this will probably help someone else, but this is not for me! thanks anyways!

Hey thanks for this but where is the server text file I cant seem to find it any where

KNOWLEDGE - July 13, 2015, 6:30 pm

They usually just use this for advertisement. For example, going to "dot.(domain extension here)"
Such as dot.tk or dot.ga.

I may be wrong but doesn't dot.tk redirect to freenom.com after you try to register a domain?

Networx - July 15, 2015, 2:35 pm

This is what dot.tk uses.

And I'm pretty sure, from what I've heard, dot.tk is a scam.

I'm not 100% sure, but be cautious.

You must have heard it from unreliable people as it 100% works. You should get your facts straight before posting.

disguided - July 15, 2015, 8:11 pm

I thought it is some .com/.org/.net etc .. anyways it might help someone :)

note- just noted that their general prices(for .com/.org/.net) are quite high that others like godaddy etc.

A pretty cool site to quickly check free domain extensions such as .ga and .tk. Pretty neat! Thanks for pointing this out.

To those thinking it gives you a free '.com', you should know that it too good to be true. ;)

Exactly. Thanks. For realizing you can't get a free .com domain

How is misleading? You're getting a free domain...

It would be misleading had it said "FREE .COM DOMAIN" or similar.

broc93 - July 20, 2015, 6:50 am

Instead of having a free domain (everybody would stay away from free domains and google doesn't really like them) you could get a 1$/year domain, if you keep your eyes open you can always find offers like that. For example, at the moment, aruba.it is selling .eu domains for 0.99€ per year, and you can buy up to 5 years. What's better, a free .tk domain or a 1€ .eu domain? you choose.

.Satellite. - July 20, 2015, 11:59 pm

Be careful with these domains. Freenom will cancel it if you get alot of traffic.

Will I need to put fake info when registering? I wanted to get a .ml domain but not sure if people are going to be able to lookup whois or if it will already be censored.

Cyber Boy - July 24, 2015, 9:24 pm

Once again all you have to do is go to freenom.com

Used this website so many times, although the nameservers take quite a long time to link to your hoster.

Also be aware guys, if you're using this for a rat or something, the site will get terminated if you have no visits within a month. Besides that, great website.

I get about 100K requests each month.

Didn't got a ban yet

LEEMUR2016 - February 17, 2016, 4:49 pm

Thanks for the Free Domains

SnowC0der - March 14, 2016, 4:39 pm

Why don't just buy domains? .com .net .org etc is really cheap ?

Disgusting - April 1, 2016, 11:09 am

Don't use this. I was using mine and after about 3 weeks they shutdown my dns without any notice and started using ads on my website. do not use these.

Taeyeon - April 4, 2016, 3:28 pm

thanks atleast this extensions is easy to remeber

An?iety - April 4, 2016, 3:34 pm

I'll have to take a peek at this one. Thanks Bro/

Bollywood - April 5, 2016, 1:41 am

These domains are free but have 3 problems:

- Very hard to seo
- Adsense never gets approved
- I have heard once you start getting a lot of traffic, they cancel your account and redirect traffic to their website.

So I recommend users to consider all these points before start working on these domains. Good Luck ?

altriop - April 5, 2016, 8:36 am

Thanks a lot ! it's nice !

hoster1 - April 6, 2016, 2:10 pm

Go with a true .com or .net domain, these free ones aren't worth it. Especially if you're running a business related site.

HitGirl - April 6, 2016, 2:11 pm

I tried to register cannabisforums.cf but sadly the domain registers policy is your not allowed anything drugs related which kind of sucks.

hoster1 - April 6, 2016, 2:16 pm

Col sig you have there, HitGirl.

TheGamingGeneral - April 8, 2016, 1:23 pm

These domains have always been free so they are not giving you some "Crazy deal" this is only a way to register one. They are also VERY hard to SEO.

yotoprules - July 22, 2016, 5:04 pm

Everyone know freenom and they are not safe, they suspended my damn .tk domain.
