Vouch, this forum is really great and it needs more members.

After viewing the forum, it looks like it is run by someone who really doesn't understand website/servers at all. Not to mention, they seem about 15/16 years old.

Theme is not bad, nothing unique though.
Too many empty sections.

It seems like a bunch of random topics, where none of the members know about or what to discuss. You should remove all inactive sections, and really rethink what you forum is actually about, rather than trying to be about everything.

LOL. I know everything about websites and servers. Ask me any webmaster question. I don't ever ask for help. But ok.

I'm gonna check out your site but I couldn't help but notice that the font you used is from the Disney font right?
