Thread: Help DDOS a Garry's Mod Game Server!

theblackdev1l - June 11, 2015, 7:40 pm

Hello everyone I am new to this website and the reason I am here is because i am finally fed up and frustrated with this guy.

This guy was a part of my community and then he decided to completely copy my Garry's Mod server and steal players from my community because I told him he could not use my community name to make a Garry's Mod server.

I tried to leave everything alone but he is still harassing us and messaging people privately and recruiting our players.

We are so frustrated and we have had enough. He was also DDOSing us personally non stop when he first made his server.

I need someone to DDOS this guy's GMOD server and keep his server/website down for sometime until it dies out. I am willing to pay for your help. This guy is just a complete asshole and will not stop being one. This is my last resort.

Please contact me at zoorik smp @ gmail dot com if you can help me out (without the spaces) thank you guys

Also if it is a paid server, your going to probally be faced with cludfare or some type of DDOS/DOS protection. If it is a dedicated server which means the person built it from scratch using their IP and did not get a domain then your good. But if the person u hate is not the owner then goodluck. If you really want his/her's IP... idk its kind of lame but give the person an infected link and use tinyurl to re-name it. Or somehow use an IP grabber maybe wireshark. Orcahub is a good booter. But again your probally not gonna get far. Sorry for the put down. ?
