This is a wordlist containing a little over 272 unique passwords. All these passwords are from previously cracked hashes. The list is great for hash cracking or to combine with usernames/emails.

Thank you. I wonder how much time would it take to brute force every last word in this list? have you ever tried? I am just wondering

I am planning on uploading a larger and better list soon. About 4 times larger and cleaner. A combination of several really popular wordlists.

AWesome list. Downloading it a little later.

Question though, how do you clean the list from doubles? I'm on windows but I do have kali in a VM if I need that

It merges wordlists and removes duplicates. I am very satisfied with it.

That really depends on what hashing algorithm you are trying to crack and if you are using a GPU or CPU cracker. Check out the guide in my signature if you want to learn how to crack hashes.
