Thread: email provider that doesnt require phone verification ?

lumpa90007 - June 21, 2015, 4:50 pm

Hey guys,

I had a hotmail email address for my e whore , tried to login 2 hour ago and i got blocked , tried to use plenty of sms receiver website to unblock the hotmail account but its never working , do anyone can recomend me any good email address that doesnt require a damn phone verification ? And also its need to work with PayPal because i will creat a paypal adress with this email... Little bit frustrayed because the hotmail and paypal account was created , but now have to start all over again :(

EDIT : Tried creating a Gmail , Yahoo , Lycos email account , and i get the same problem with phone verification , nothing is working , and i dont want to use my real number and i think u guys will understand why haha !

Thanks alot !

I use my original phone number.

Im not afraid of anything, because i dont scam, so i have nothing to worry about.

So you are saying i should not consider e whoring as scam ? So i should not be worried to put my real phone number for verification ?

Need other people advice if possible please

Thanks alot for the answer !

hotmail you can just use an alternative email, riseup you need nothing, gmail if you use your home IP or a unblocked VPN it doesn't require it.

Thanks Hern.

If other people want to give me their opinion feel free to do it .

Thanks everyone.

If you have web hosting you should get Web mail and be able to create infinite e-mails under the domain without no verification. I could even make one for you if you wanted (thinking about a service).

Hey Hitman Agency , thats really nice from you , i wish i could PM you right now to have more info about your offer but i still need 6 more posts haha ! Will write to you really soon when i will be able to PM :)

Thanks everyone i really like this community everyone is helping me

EDIT : Still need 10 more posts , not 6.

I think <https://www.hushmail.com/> could do the trick for you OP.

lumpa90007 - June 21, 2015, 5:20 pm

Thanks Fudster , but 49.99$ is pretty expensive for something that i still didnt make a cent from :(

Thanks anyway !

Oh can't you use Tor Mail? Or something on Tor since it's suppose to be anonymous they shouldn't ask for anything like a phone number.

blazin@420alt.com

I use it for school and it makes students laugh when they see it on the sign in sheet.

You can get a free email account from <https://cock.li/>

Only thing required is the email address of your choice and a password, no names or phone numbers required. When creating an account you can choose something other than @cock.li, such as @airmail.cc

lumpa90007 - June 21, 2015, 5:30 pm

Thanks spigot !!! " cock.il" sounds good for a little slut that sell picture hahaha !!

Have you tried mail.com? Last time I used it it seemed pretty sketchy... Might work for you?... Also if you want to take the long route you can create a free website on x10hosting and the free site has email support so just crest whatever email you want and off you go.

lumpa90007 - June 21, 2015, 5:42 pm

Thanks PentestingForever !! Now i need to go to sleep , i took note of everything , will update my original post when the PayPal and the Mail account is done.

Thanks so much guys you were all of great help !!

And sorry for my english its not my first language.. but i try my best :)

There is a button to go to the free version. Or I think if you go to hushmail.com after signing up you can use it for free.
